Japanese Launch Attacks On All Sectors

CHINESE HOLD LINES IN DESPERATE FIGHTING

SUNK BOMBER WAS HIT NEAR CANTON

Shanghai, 1 p.m. To-day.

It is disclosed by the Japanese naval authorities here that the giant Japanese bomber which crashed in the sea near Amoy with four wounded airmen on board, was among those which took part in the air raid on the Canton-Hankow Railway.

The machine was hit several times by shrapnel from Chinese anti-aircraft guns, one shell bursting very close and wounding four of the six men on board.

The other airmen endeavoured to fly the damaged bomber to Formosa, her base, but she crashed at three o'clock in the afternoon into the sea. The crew, picked up by the s.s. Soochow, were yesterday morning transferred to a Japanese warship and the wounded men put into the ship's hospital. The condition of one of them is reported to be serious.—Our Own Correspondent.

SOVIET AMBASSADOR'S MYSTERY TRIP

Shanghai, 1.25 p.m. To-day.

The departure for Moscow by aeroplane of M. Bogomoloff, the Soviet Ambassador, has aroused considerable speculation as to the import of the trip.

It is rumoured strongly in Chinese circles that M. Bogomoloff carries important contracts for the supply of Soviet arms and ammunition to the Nanking Government and that a large delivery of aeroplanes, carrying other highly important war materials as cargo will be delivered to Nanking shortly.

The Chinese Government is reported to have issued an appeal in the United States for all Chinese with

COMBINED AIR AND LAND ATTACK

Shanghai, To-day.

The Japanese launched attacks on all sectors of the Shanghai front this morning.

While artillery blazed, sending shell after shell into the Chinese lines, bombers loosed their destructive cargoes.

The immediate vicinity of North Station received the most attention, and several shells are reported to have found their mark.

Chinese anti-aircraft guns, which gave their first display yesterday, again went into action this morning but no success has been reported hitherto.—Reuter.

SEVERE FIGHTING

Shanghai, 1.40 p.m. To-day.

Severe fighting is taking place all along the Shanghai front from Lotien to Chapel, with the heaviest weight of the Japanese offensive launched against the North Station sector.

The station premises in the last 24 hours has been reduced to a shambles by concentrated artillery fire and aerial bombing, but the Chinese lines remain intact and the Japanese have lost heavily in a series of infantry assaults.

All along the line, the Japanese forces have encountered Chinese resistance in overwhelming strength, more than ten additional divisions having been placed in reserve. Seven divisions are concentrated in the Kiangwan sector, where Japanese attempts to break through have been easily repulsed.

Similar reports of stubborn fighting and unchanged lines are coming in from the Lotien-Linhang sector. Japanese losses in this area air experience to return to China to join the Chinese Air Force.

In response to the appeal, it is stated that more than a hundred are already arranging their passages.—Our Own Correspondent.

PRINCE FUSHIMI IN SERIOUS CONDITION

Shanghai, 1.25 p.m. To-day.

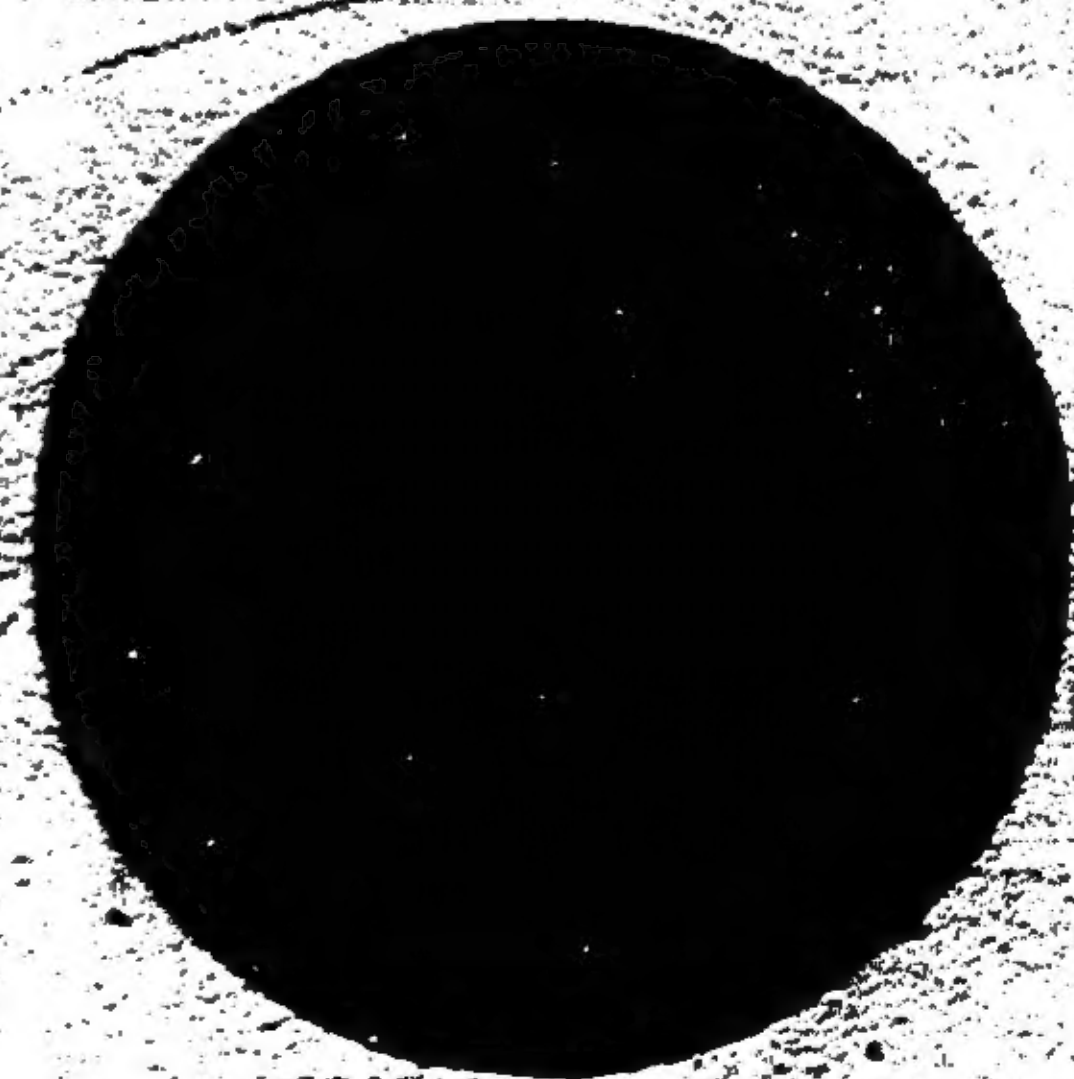

Prince Fushimi, who was wounded when a Chinese shell from Pootung burst on board a Japanese destroyer in action in the Whangpoo, is reported to be in a serious condition.

He has been treated aboard a hospital ship in the river and two pieces of shrapnel removed. It is reported, however, that some time elapsed between the wounding and the time adequate treatment was available, and he is suffering from severe shock and loss of blood.

A blood transfusion is likely to be carried out.

It is also learned that several casualties occurred aboard the Idzumo this morning when the decks of the flagship were swept by machine-gun fire.—Our Own Correspondent.

MONSTER BERLIN RALLY

Popular Demonstration In Honour Of Il Duce

THREE MILLION PEOPLE IN STADIUM AND NEAR NEIGHBOURHOOD

Berlin, To-day.

Welcoming Signor Mussolini at a monster rally at the Olympic Stadium last night, the Propaganda Minister, Dr. Joseph Goebbels, reported that 1,000,000 people were present in the Stadium and adjacent squares, and 2,000,000 on roads leading to the stadium.

An immense roar of "Heil! Heil! Duce! Duce!" greeted the two Dictators.

Herr Hitler, speaking first, said "The deepest meaning of this demonstration is the sincere desire and guarantee of our countries of that peace which is not the reward of cowardice but the result of securing with a sense of responsibility our racial, spiritual, physical and cultural substance and values.

"We believe thereby that we also best serve interests which, reaching beyond our two peoples, should really be the interests of the whole of Europe."

Describing the terrible trials through which Germany had passed before National Socialism restored to the German people those general rights of mankind which had been refused for one and a half decades, Herr Hitler said: "That was a time of most bitter tests—I must state this before the German people and the entire world—Italy did not take part in those humiliations."

HATRED AND DISUNION

The Fuehrer said the two autocratic national regimes united at a time when ideals of the democratic Marxist International could only show every demonstration of hatred and disunion.

He concluded by stating "Every attempt at separating such a community of peoples by playing them one against the other and by causing suspicions or misconstruing their aims, will fail at the wish of those who form this demonstration of community as well as at the will of the two men who stand before you."

Signor Mussolini, speaking in German, declared: "Nothing will be concocted here to drive a wedge still further into an already split Europe."

ECONOMIC AUTOCRACY

"We desire peace and will always be ready to work for peace."

"As well as in aims and outlook, Germany and Italy also followed the same goal in the sphere of economic autocracy."

"Without economic independence political independence is doubtful."

Referring to the "criminal sanctions against Italy," in which Germany did not participate, Il Duce said that was the point at which for the first time the existence of necessary co-operation between Germany and Italy became clearly apparent.

NO DICTATORSHIPS!

There were, he said, no dictatorships, either in Germany or Italy, but forces and organisations existed in those countries which served the people.

BUSY DAY

Il Duce's Programme In Berlin

Berlin, To-day.

To-day (Wednesday) will be an extremely busy day for Signor Mussolini.

At 10.30, accompanied by Count Ciano, the Italian Foreign Minister, the Duce will lay a wreath at the grave of the Unknown Soldier in Unter den Linden, after which he will attend, together with Herr Hitler, what is described as the biggest parade seen in Berlin since the War.

Fifty thousand men, representing all three sections of the German defence forces, will parade in the Tiergarten.

LUNCHEON GUEST

At the close of the parade, which is expected to last two hours, the Duce will be the guest of Herr Hitler at luncheon, when their next political talks will take place.

Later in the day, Herr Hitler will drive with Signor Mussolini to the Lehrter Station, from which the Duce will return to Italy by special train.

Herr Rudolf Hess, the Fuehrer's Deputy, will accompany the Duce as far as the Austro-German frontier.

FRENCH VIEW

"Manoeuvre Of Intimidation"

Paris, To-day.

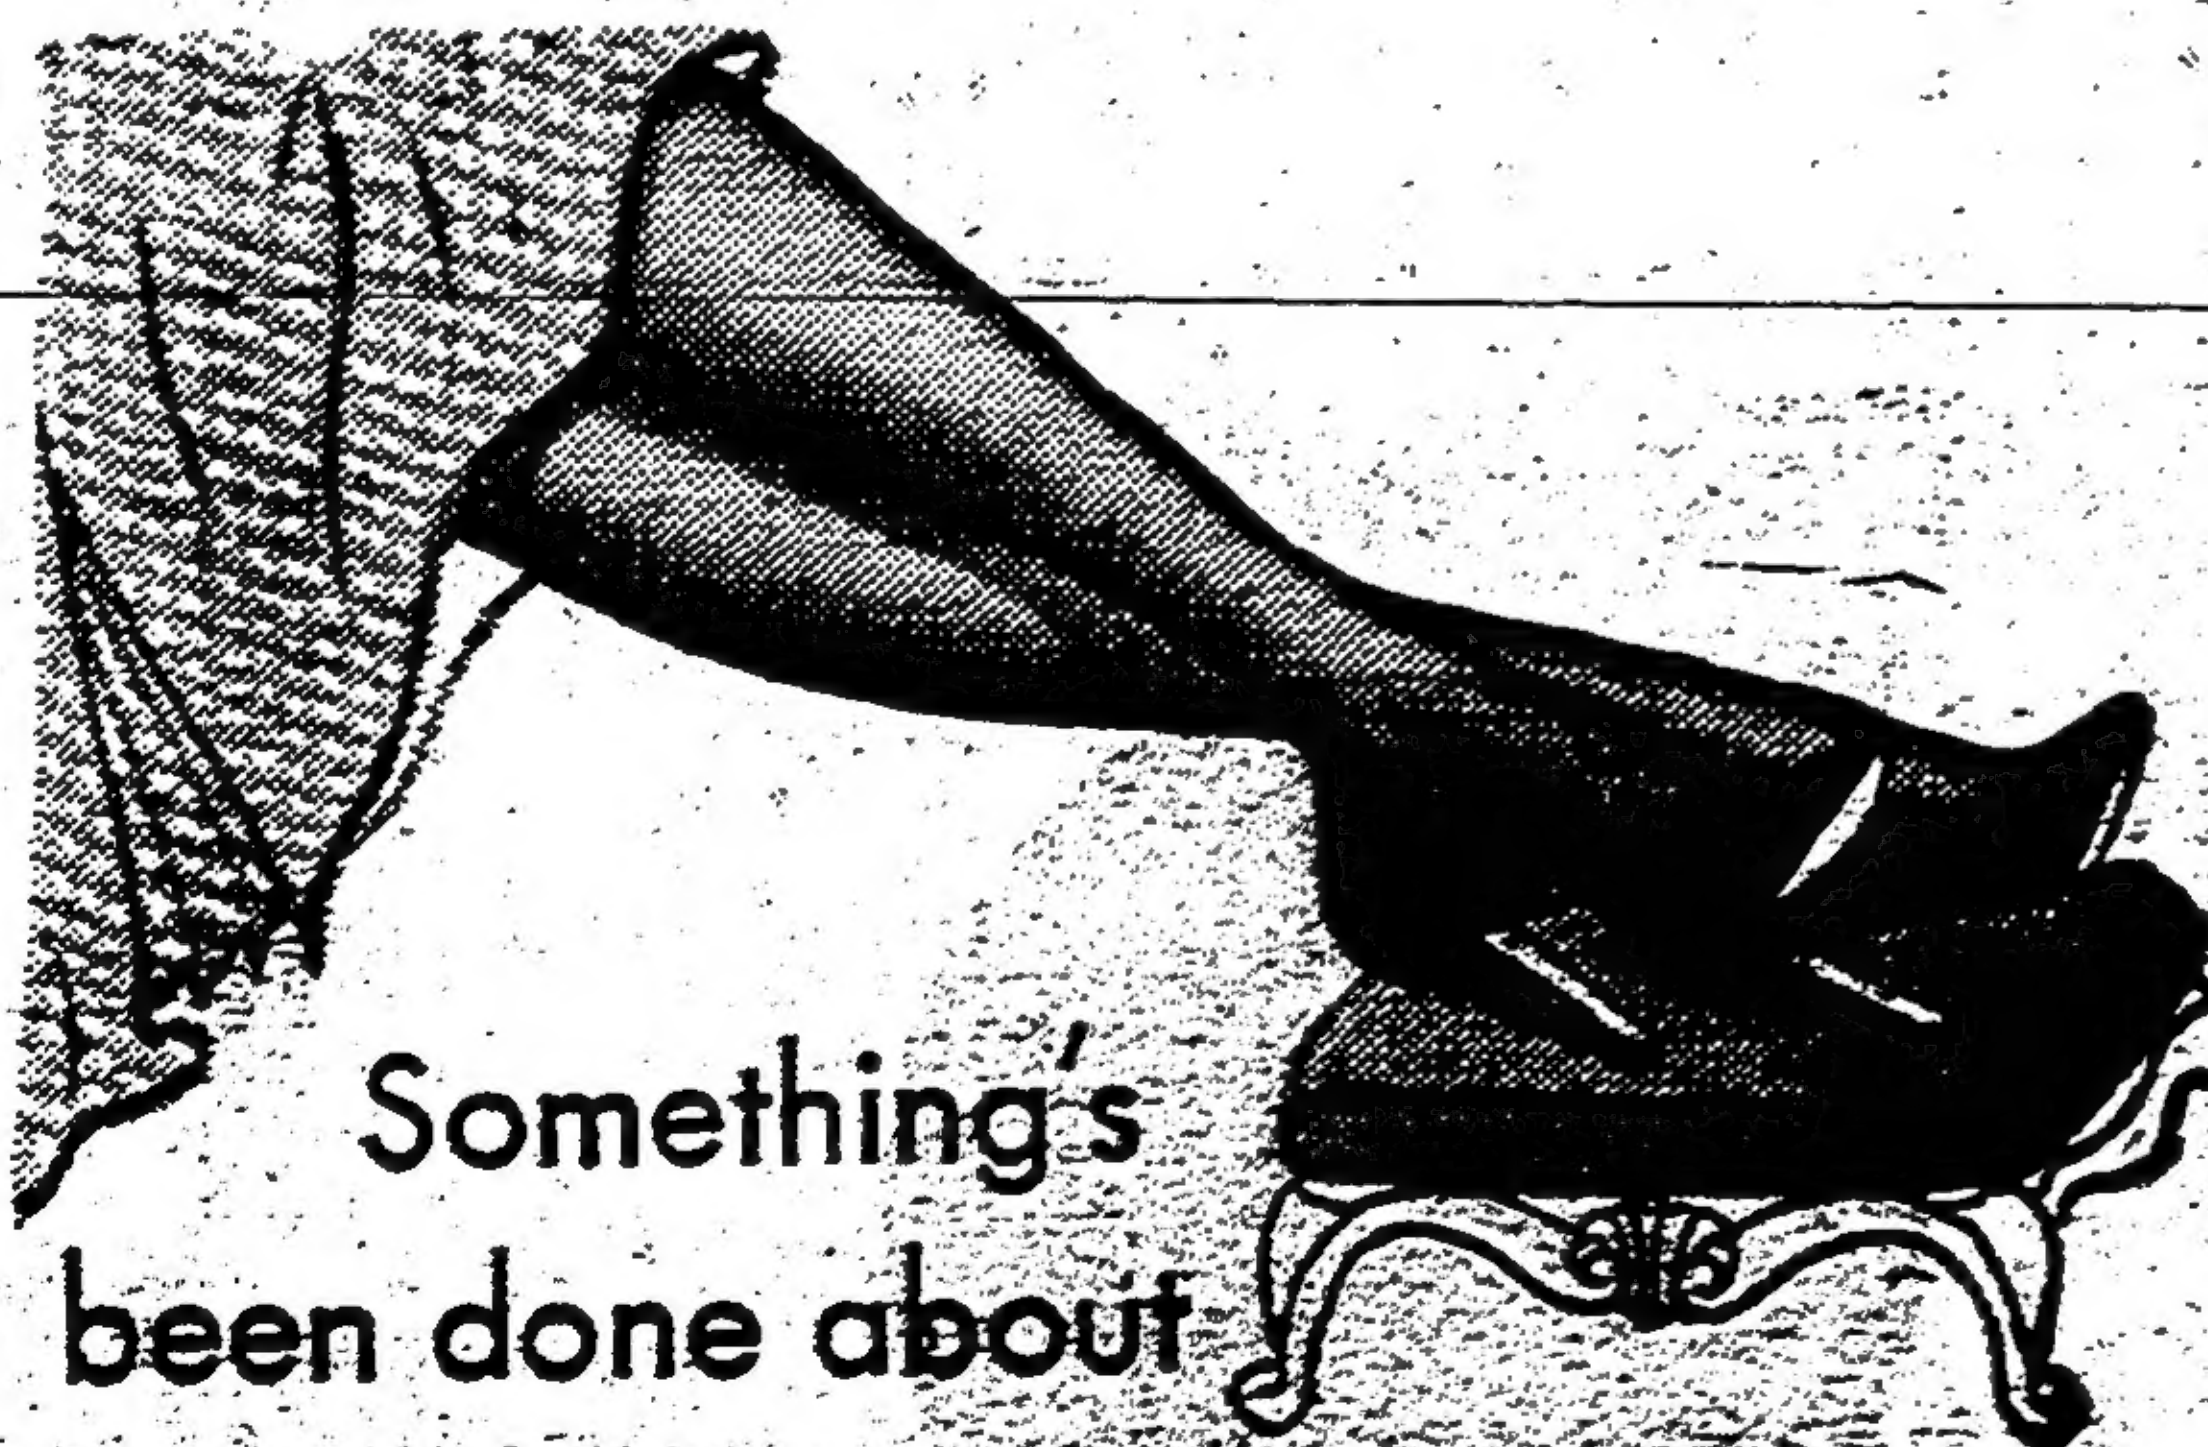

The political aspect of the Mussolini-Hitler meeting is discussed at length in the French press, particular attention being paid to the toasts exchanged at the banquet on Monday evening.

Declarations made on this occasion by the two Dictators of their readiness to co-operate with all nations of goodwill, are contrasted by "Le Petit Parisien" with the visit to the Krupp Works at Essen, which the paper considers a "manoeuvre of intimidation" as regards Europe. "L'Epoque" writes that the totalitarian and militarist spirit of the German and Italian regimes, and their fraternisation in front of the democratic ideology of the Western Powers, has now reached its culminating point.

The visit to Krupps was a masterpiece of "mise en scene."

The paper says that after the mystic of war and the mystic of industrial strength which were celebrated respectively by the Mecklenberg manoeuvres and before the blast furnaces in Essen, the "mystic of the masses" will predominate in Berlin's Olympic Stadium on Tuesday evening. —Trans-Ocean.

The Squeeze That Failed

It is one of the injustices of life, I suppose, that knowledge is not always rewarded. In 99 out of 100 cases at the bridge table the logical course is the winning course, but in that hundredth case some weird and often, amusing things can happen. Every beginner and weak player, if placed in declarer's position in the hand shown below, would rump home with the grand slam contract. The very fact that the actual declarer was an expert accounted for his defeat.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West

3 hearts	Pass	4 no trump	Pass
5 no trump	Pass	7 no trump	Pass
Pass	Pass

East's overcall was of the type that causes experts to shudder. It certainly had fortunate repercussions for him, however, on this hand. He was so lucky as to find South with a hand too big for a double. South knew, of course, that he could severely defeat two clubs, but it did not seem worth while to double a nonvulnerable opponent when he himself could count on a sure small or grand slam and rubber.

After West had opened a club and the dummy was exposed, it seemed to declarer almost a sure thing that East must have the spade king as the only compensating honour for his miserable club bid. Thus, instead of blindly finessing against the spade queen for the thirteenth trick, South determined to squeeze East between clubs and spades.

The club ace took the queen, and five rounds of hearts followed, declarer discarding two clubs and a spade. The diamond suit then was run off, until South was reduced to the spade queen and the club jack. East, of course, had held on to his club king and, with only one other card left, declarer felt morally certain that that other was the spade king. So he led the queen to the ace and expectantly watched for the fall of the king. For all I know, he still is watching!

When it developed that West, not East, had held the vital king, of spades, and that a simple papamama finesse would have fulfilled the contract, South's feelings can be better imagined than described.

MAJOR GIVES EVIDENCE IN BRIBERY TRIAL

The trial of Harry Richard Major, 34, Revenue Officer, charged with accepting a bribe of $200 from Li Yee on board the s.s. Wo Ping Yee on June 23 was continued before the Chief Justice, Sir Atholl MacGregor this morning.

Mr. M. J. Abbott, Assistant Crown Solicitor, is appearing for the Crown, while the accused is defended by the Hon. Mr. Leo D'Almada, Junior.

Li Yee, who is alleged to have given the bribe to accused, stated in the witness box this morning that he was a travelling trader doing business between Wanchow and Hong Kong. The wolfram belonged to one Li Pun and was put on the Wo Ping Yee at Hohow. Witness did not know how the cargo was placed on the boat as he did not supervise the loading.

The ship's coolie, Yung Ping, was instructed by Li Pun to take charge of the cargo. Witness only knew the whereabouts of the cargo after the boat had sailed. Witness did not disclose to the purser or to anyone on board that there was wolfram on the vessel. There were about 100 bags but only 24 belonged to Li Pun. Witness's intention was to sell the wolfram to Bodiker and Company.

SAW ACCUSED

When the ship arrived in Hong Kong there was conversation between the purser and Yung Ping. Witness was about six feet away from the comprador's office in which the conversations took place. Witness saw the accused in the office.

At one stage during the conversations witness was told that accused wanted $200, whereupon he replied "Give him $150."

Cross-examined by Mr. D'Almada, witness said he could not say whether the wolfram was placed secretly on board the ship, as witness did not supervise the loading.

In answer to further questions, witness replied that he was to accompany the cargo to Hong Kong, where it was to be handed over by the coolie, Yung Ping. Witness received $30 for his trouble.

Mr. D'Almada: "I put it to you that the defendant was not in the comprador's office, or in or anywhere near the office."

Witness: "I saw him there."

C.R.O.'S STORY

Chinese Revenue Officer No. 8 testified that in the comprador's office a man said "Give them several tens of dollars for tea," and accused, who was present, said in both Chinese and English "two hundred dollars!"

Cross-examined by Mr. D'Almada, witness said that all the Chinese Revenue officers, who took part in the search of the Wo Ping Yee, received $5 each.

MAJOR GIVES EVIDENCE

When the case for the prosecution closed, Major, giving evidence in his defence, said he was 34 years of age, married and had one child. He had served with the East Surrey Regiment for 7½ years and was discharged from the Army at his own request when holding the rank of Corporal. From 1925 to 1932 he was employed by the Union Insurance Society of Canton as caretaker. He left of his own accord to join the Revenue Department in June, 1932, and went on leave in August last year returning on May 22 this year.

He knew his duties with regard to unmanifested cargo. Large quantities were to be confiscated and a report later made to the Chief Preventive officer. In case of small quantities, action was left to the discretion of the European officer and he had on numerous occasions, exercised that discretion. In this instance the cargo found was larger than what he would term a small quantity.

UNMANIFESTED CARGO

On June 23, at 5.35 p.m. he was informed that the Wo Ping Yee had arrived and he went to carry out a search. He saw several Chinese Revenue officers and instructed three of them to search the ship. He was dressed in dungarees with a Government Revenue department cap on. C.R.O. 80 told him that unmanifested wolfram had been found on board. He went along and looked at the cargo and was satisfied it was wolfram. C.R.O. 71 and 90 then came along and he told C.R.O. 71 to get the manifest. This officer took some time and he sent No. 80 to hurry him up. A few minutes later, No. 71 arrived accompanied by the purser. This man was carrying a form on which was written 101 Bags—Wolfram—Shamshui. There was no signature. Defendant said it looked freshly written and told Lai Kwok it was a false document. C.R.O. No. 71 also remarked that it was false. Later C.R.O. 91 came to witness and said that Lai Kwok wanted to give him $40, adding that Lai Kwok was a good friend of No. 91. Major told No. 91 to get away but he again asked that his friend be given a chance.

LET OFF WITH WARNING

After a while, witness agreed but warned that next time Lai Kwok brought down unmanifested cargo he would be arrested and the cargo taken to the office.

The men then left and Major went to the fore of the ship to continue the search but nothing more was found. Later, he went on deck and passed the comprador's office, where he saw several Chinese Revenue officers inside. He instructed two to search the engine room. He himself went to the engine room, but did not do any searching.

Later he boarded a junk from Tai Po Shek on the same wharf and found C.R.O. 80 there. No smuggled goods were found and defendant returned to the wharf. He left instructions that when the Sui Tai from Macao arrived he was to be called at his office to which he returned.

SURPRISE GIFT

He remained in the office nearly an hour when he was told that the Sui Tai had arrived. He went to the Wing Lok wharf and there he was beckoned by C.R.O. 91 to the watchman's shed, where he was handed $100.

In answer to questions, Major said he was surprised. He did not expect to receive any money when he let Lai Kwok off, not even the $40 originally offered.

He asked why the money was given to him and the revenue officer said that his friend wanted him to have it. He put the money in his pocket and left.

About an hour and a half had elapsed since he let Lai Kwok off and the receipt of the money. He denied there was considerable bargaining between him and others in the Comprador's office and declared he was never in that office or the purser's.

He was not handed $200 by C.R.O. 91 on the Wo Ping Yee. The case is proceeding.

LEAGUE APPLAUDS RESOLUTION CONDEMNING JAPAN

Geneva, To-day.

The League Assembly met for the first time in the big assembly hall of the new Palace of the League yesterday, with the President of the assembly, the Aga Khan, in the chair.

The Aga Khan said that the fact that the Assembly had now moved into its definite home was a symbol of the continuity of the League's work, and expressed the hope that the new Palace would become the centre of friendship of all nations.

The Assembly elected Belgium as a new non-permanent member by 47 votes to nil.

At the close of the morning session the Aga Khan read the resolution adopted on Monday by the committee of twenty-three on the Sino-Japanese conflict.

He then placed the resolution before the Assembly for its decision.

The Spanish delegate, Senor del Vayo, expressed the solidarity of Republican Spain with China.

CARRIED WITH APPLAUSE

The resolution was then carried amid applause without a dissentient voice.

The Chinese delegate, Dr. Wellington Koo, thanked the Assembly for its prompt and unanimous passing of the resolution, which proved that the League remained firmly attached to the principles of humanity and international justice.

The whole civilised world, Dr. Koo said, would observe this with satisfaction.—Trans-Ocean.

ANOTHER JUNK OUTRAGE

Canton, To-day.

Nine fishing junks, out of a fleet of ten were machine-gunned and sunk by Japanese blue-jackets off Hoifung, according to a report received here late last night.

On Sunday afternoon, ten Japanese warships put in an appearance at Peihoi. Four motor boats manned by blue-jackets with machine-guns were lowered from the ships and, without warning, proceeded to attack the fishing fleet which was about 600 yards away. Nine junks were sunk and their crews machine-gunned.

The report states that over 100 fishermen were killed. Our Own Correspondent.

"SPY" ARRESTED

Canton, 9.30 a.m.

The city is still awaiting the arrival of Japanese planes. Meanwhile, there was mild excitement outside the British Bridge when an alleged spy was arrested by Chinese police, believed to be for signalling activities.

An irate and excited crowd followed the man shouting abuse at the unfortunate prisoner.—Reuter.

BELFAST LINEN CONTRACTS

London, To-day.

Linen shippers interested in the export trade to China met at Belfast yesterday and discussed the situation arising from the Sino-Japanese war.

It was decided unanimously that all contracts must be fulfilled, and any failure to carry them out would be dealt with effectively by the linen trade as a whole.—Reuter.

CANTON RAID TO-DAY AIMED AT POINTS EAST

Canton, To-day.

After the first air raid warning of the day had been given at 8.55 this morning, the all clear signal was sounded at 10.50, but no details are available of events.

Firing was distinctly audible east of the city, and it is believed that a few bombs were dropped, but no definite information can be obtained at present.

It transpires that in yesterday morning's raid four bombs were dropped on Whampoa.

BOMBS MISS

A foreign observer states that two aimed at the military establishments there missed their mark, landing on shore, while two other missiles aimed at the Chinese cruiser Chaohe also missed.

The Japanese planes apparently flew so low over the cruiser that their bombcracks were plainly visible.—Reuter.

NEW RECORD ON ATLANTIC HOP

London, To-day.

Imperial Airways flying boat Cambria has set up a new record for the Atlantic crossing.

Flying the great circle course, she covered the distance from Botwood, Newfoundland, which she left at 8.38 on Monday night, to Foynes in 10 hours 33 minutes at an average speed of about 190 miles an hour.

The Air Secretary, Lord Swinton, has sent hearty congratulations to the Cambria's commander on the record crossing which makes, he says, a "good ending to a very successful series of experimental flights."—British Wireless.

A vivid indication of the devastation during the Japanese bombing raids on Canton is provided by this picture, showing houses reduced to rubble. Over a thousand were killed and injured in the raid which caused this havoc.

Scores of bodies of killed and injured were recovered from this pile of debris, caused by a bomb which completely destroyed eight houses and damaged a dozen more beyond repair.

EXETER GAOL DILEMMA NOW OVERCOME

London, To-day.

The problem of how to dispose of 84 deserting sailors of the Spanish Government destroyer Jose Luis Diaz, who following their refusal to remain on board the warship, were arrested by the British authorities and confined in Exeter Gaol, has finally been solved.

The entire group will be escorted by British and French police to the Spanish frontier and there released.

It is declared that members of the group, which also includes several officers, will be arrested directly they set foot on Spanish soil and will be tried by court-martial for desertion.

IN BATCHES OF TEN

In order to prevent any sort of demonstration, the prisoners are being taken from Exeter Gaol in batches of ten, the first of which left Southampton on the regular night steamer for Le Havre last night. At Le Havre the French police will take charge of them.

The British authorities refused to provide the men with necessary papers to travel to other countries, and the Spanish Embassy in London refused to intervene.

The Jose Luis Diaz left Plymouth for an unknown destination on Sunday night.—Trans-Ocean.

Fair Weather

The Royal Observatory reported this morning that the anti-cyclone is moving eastward across Japan.

A ridge of high pressure extends from it to the lower Yangtze Valley.

Pressure is relatively low over the Philippines and the Pacific to the East.

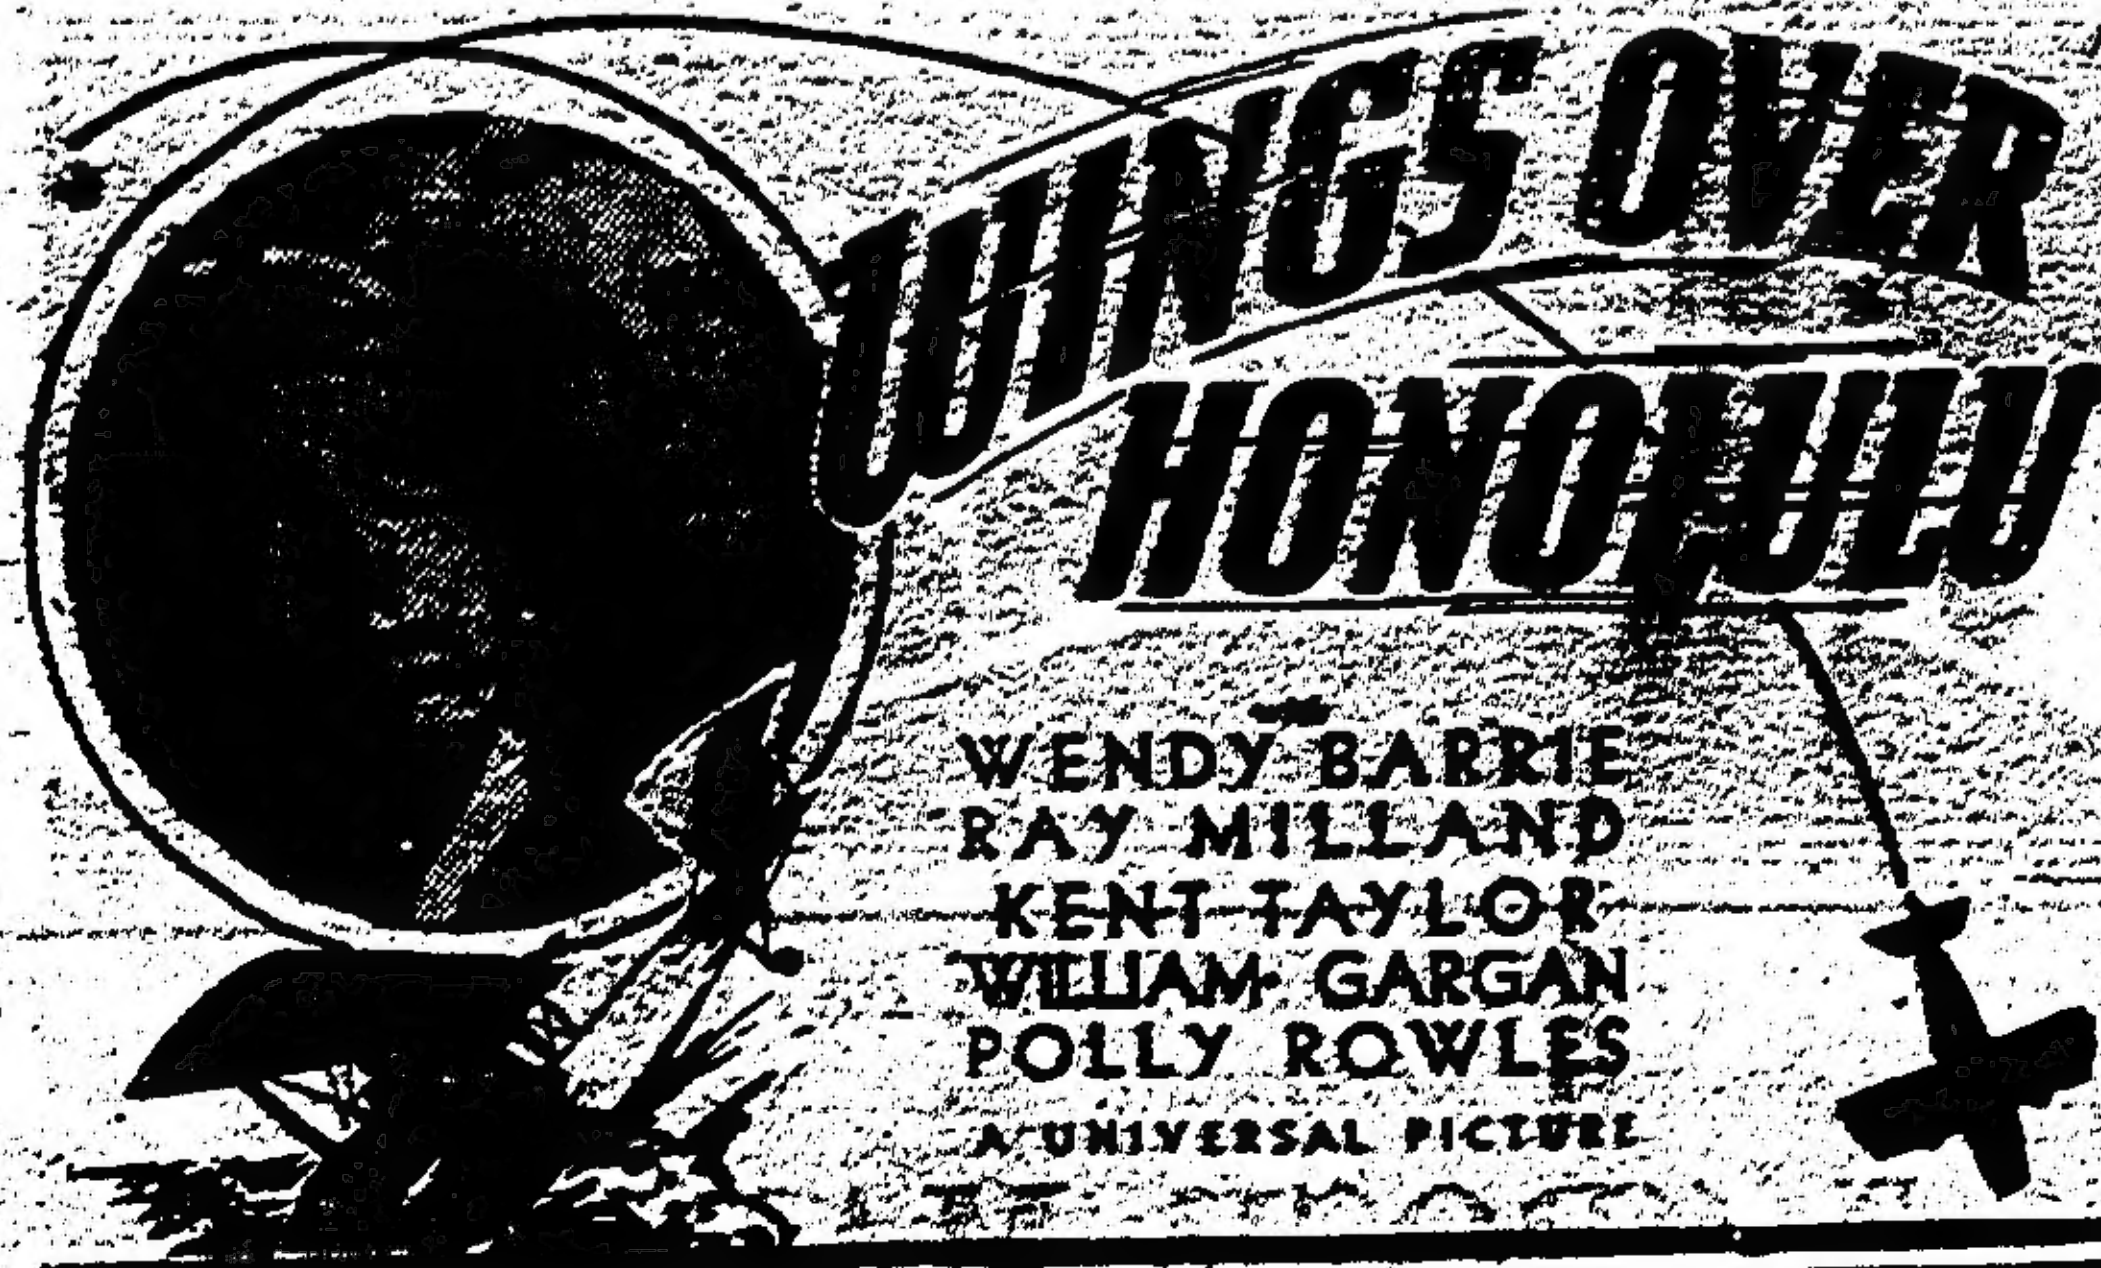

Local forecast:—E. and N.E. winds, fresh to moderate, fair.

BRITAIN PERTURBED BY JUNK MASSACRE

LONDON, TO-DAY.
BRITISH OFFICIAL QUARTERS ARE STATED TO BE MUCH PERTURBED AT THE NEWS OF THE JAPANESE SUBMARINE ATTACK ON THE CHINESE FISHING FLEET, SINCE THE OPINION IS GAINING GROUND THAT SOME OF THE FISHERMEN WHO LOST THEIR LIVES WERE BRITISH SUBJECTS.

It is stated in political circles that if the fears of the British Government in this respect should be confirmed, a vigorous protest will be addressed to the Japanese Government.

It is also stated that the British Government would demand full compensation for the families of such of the victims as might have been British subjects.

NO MORE NOTES FOR W.P.B.

The "Daily Herald" demands that Britain and the United States forbid the exportation of all goods to Japan, "since it is only by economic pressure that Japanese barbarism can be brought to an end, and not by the despatch of Notes, of which more than enough are already in the wastepaper basket of the Foreign Office in Tokyo."—Trans-Ocean.

SHE WANTS NEW DEAL FOR MOTHER-IN-LAW

Mobilisation of mothers-in-law is among the most impressive of this week's strange happenings in America. The genius behind the move is Mrs. Nellie Howard, of Amarillo, Texas, who thinks that mother-in-law jokes have gone too far.

She has obtained a State charter for an organisation named the National Association of Mother-in-Law Clubs.

Clubs for mother-in-law will be founded all over the country. They will try to teach the world that the mother-in-law is human and the true friend to her son-in-law.

MAGISTRATES HOLD THE BABY

During the hearing of a matrimonial case at Middlesbrough Police Court Justice literally held the baby.

The case was being held before two male magistrates, Councillors T. Briggs and T. Meeham, and when it was apparent that both man and wife were adamant in the refusal to be reconciled the magistrates decided to hear the case privately in their retiring-room.

The woman had brought with her her eight-months-old baby, and in order to keep it quiet the magistrates took turns at nursing it, while the other endeavoured to persuade the couple to come together again.

Councillor Briggs used his watch to interest the child and Councillor Meeham showed himself expert in the art of child nursing.

BATTLE OF THE BOYNE

Account By Eye- Witness Found

An eye-witness's account of the Battle of the Boyne, written on parchment by a Protestant clergyman, has been discovered in County Down. It carries a comprehensive plan of the battlefield, and declares that the losses were fewer than are generally given—not more than 800 or 900 on the Irish side and 200 on the English side, of whom 100 were Dutch.

The writer declares that King William mercifully stopped the pursuit, thus preventing further killing.

The Battle of the Boyne was fought in July, 1690, between William III and James II. The former had an army of British and Dutch soldiers, with a regiment of Huguenot refugees. King James's army was mainly Irish, with some English and French officers. After a sharp fight the Irish were defeated, and James fled to France. An obelisk near Drogheda mark the scene of the battle.

150TH ANNIVERSARY OF AUSTRALIA

Snubs From Britain

In days when talk of cementing the bonds of Empire is very rife there is one good brand of cement available, namely, the exchanging of visits.

Feeling is very sour in Sydney because, under one excuse or another, invitations to the commemoration next year in Sydney of the 150th anniversary of the founding of Australia has been declined.

There will be no Royal representative, no British Government representative, no Imperial elder statesman, no famous naval or military man, no Royal Navy warship. Australia is puzzled to account for this series of snubs.

Impossible that the couple could be reconciled, they agreed to bury the hatchet and left the court together smiling with their baby.

MYSTERY PLANE OVER BRITISH SHIP

Capt. E. Holmes, master of the British s.s. Lyeemoun, local agents Wo Fat Shing, reports that at 9.08 a.m. yesterday morning, whilst proceeding to Hong Kong from Saigon, a seaplane with red, white and blue markings passed his vessel, returned and circled several times and then made off towards a Danish ship about 10 miles to the N. E. After repeating the procedure, it disappeared in an easterly direction.

TORPEDO ATTACK ON IDZUMO

Explosion Rocks All Shanghai In Early Hours

VIOLENT BATTERY BRINGS WAR BACK TO FOREIGN AREA

Shanghai, To-day.

The war came with startling suddenness to Shanghai's doorstep at 4.50 this morning when the pre-dawn stillness was shattered by a terrific explosion, believed to be from a torpedo intended to blow up the Idzumo.

This was the signal for an intensive battle between Chinese artillery in Pootung and the Japanese warships strung out from the Japanese Consulate-General to Woosung, which lasted for an hour.

The Japanese warcraft pumped a continual stream of shells into Pootung, the thunderous detonations waking up the entire city.

The force of the explosions broke several window panes in the Hong Kong and Shanghai Bank premises and other buildings on the Bund.

Shells from Chinese guns passed over the Idzumo and are reported to have landed on Jardine's Shanghai and Hongkew Wharf.

Meanwhile, daring Chinese machine gunners on Pootung Point, on the opposite bank of the river from the Japanese Consulate-General, sprayed the Idzumo and nearby Japanese warships with fire.

Japanese seaplanes took the air to try and spot the Chinese guns which, not wishing to disclose their positions, remained silent.

The battle was the noisiest heard in Shanghai since hostilities started and gave most of the city's inhabitants a bad fright.

The populace of Nantao, thinking themselves under bombardment, were especially nervous, and many began a terrified exodus from the area. — Reuter.

HUGE CHINESE REINFORCEMENT

Shanghai, To-day.

Japanese planes took a prominent part in operations on the Shanghai front, where in spite of heavy hand to hand struggles, neither side has gained any decisive advantage.

The Chinese have been further reinforced, and, according to Japanese sources, seven Chinese divisions are now stationed on the Lotien sector.

Eighteen Chinese divisions, each from 6,000 to 10,000 strong, are now said to be stationed in the region of Liuhong, Pootung and Kiangwan, while another twenty divisions are asserted to be in the immediate vicinity of Shanghai.

Statements made by a Japanese spokesman yesterday on the strength of the Chinese air force are much remarked on by foreign journalists, since they were in glaring contrast to former affirmations from the same source that the Chinese air force had been "practically annihilated."

The spokesman now says that the Japanese estimate the strength of the "first line" Chinese air force at 40 squadrons of from seven to nine machines each. — Trans-Ocean.

THE WORLD GOES BY By "ULYSSES"

A WORD on hiking. A word, I should say, of warning. Warning to the more athletically-minded of our Shanghai guests, who may look forward to enlivening a gloomy winter in Hong Kong by scaling the many hills, mountains, alps and other natural elevations of the earth's surface (dictionary).

These so-called natural elevations are not in the least bit natural. Indeed, after one or two attempts to scale the Observatory Hill and other such mountainous ranges, I have come to the conclusion that some fiendishly-minded individual had them constructed just out of pure devilment.

They are a snare and a delusion and you should beware of those cranks, of whom there are many in the Colony, who gaze at Tsimsham or Lion Rock with a faraway, dreamy look and who murmur ecstatically of hikes, past and yet to come.

There is nothing ecstatic in hiking. It leads invariably to at least two gallons of sweat (i.e. perspiration), loss of several pounds in weight, skinless heels, aches and, often, an engagement or one of those hurried weddings.

The last occasion I went, started off, on a hike was when a large party of us took the lower slopes of Kowloon Peak at a rush somewhat reminiscent of the earlier stages of a Japanese attack.

While the others gallantly carried on and were last seen planting the Dear Old Flag (interval for two minutes silence) on the summit, I, like the previously-mentioned Japanese attack, had come to a dead stop, 1,921 feet from the sum-

A simple calculation will show that I had mounted, or advanced in an upward direction, the tremendous and positively dizzy height of fifty feet (Fahrenheit).

I should mention that I had been carrying the expedition's beer supply, all six cases of it. There seemed nothing else to do but to consume the stuff. After all, it was a dreadful weight.

In an hour or so I became badly beerlogged, heeled over and slowly sank.

A simple cairn of beer bottles, they tell me, though I have never since ventured to such a height to confirm this, now marks the spot where expired a gallant would-be mountaineer.

This simple memorial to the late Ulysses touches me deeply. If the bottles were replenished from time to time, I might even consider paying a visit to the spot. Until then, however, I shall keep myself firmly tied down to the flat.

When desirous of taking exercise, as the saying goes, I shall play two or three games of rugby football, followed by a run round Happy Valley and possibly a game or two of squash rackets, with some hockey thrown in for good measure. But no hiking.

A hen, I read, eats cotton seeds. Now I know that it was not hair in that omelet I ate the other night, but thread.

A chemist who is optimistic predicts increased development of rare earths. This, however, does not mean there will be an "After the Good Earth."

MOLLER BOAT CREW "STRIKE" IN HARBOUR

Two European Officers Reported Also Signed Off

CREW DECLINES OFFER OF INCREASED PAY

CANTONESE SEAMEN NOW SIGNED ON

Having refused an offer of increased wages rather than work a ship under conditions which would necessitate them lending indirect assistance to Japan, the entire Chinese crew of the s.s. Alice Moller, numbering 47, were signed off in Hong Kong this morning.

Although no definite confirmation can be had at the moment, it is understood that the European chief officer and second officer, in sympathy with the views of the men, have also been signed off.

The Alice Moller, which arrived here about a fortnight ago has been commissioned to carry a cargo of coal to Japan.

On the Chinese crew, most of whom hail from Shanghai, hearing of this, they requested to be signed off.

Despite an offer from the agents, which would have had the effect of increasing wages all round to an extent of about 20 per cent. the men persisted in their attitude and were accordingly signed off this morning.

NEW CREW

It is further reported that a new crew of seamen from South China are being signed on and the Alice Moller will probably sail to-morrow.

Interviewed this morning, one of the senior members of the crew who could understand English, said they would not go to Japan at any price.

It was not that they were afraid of the danger but they objected to doing anything that would aid Japan.

SHANGHAI HOMES

"Most of us have, or rather had our homes in Shanghai" continued the "China Mail" informant. "We don't know what has happened to our families. For all we know they may all be dead, we can't get in touch with them but we know a great many of our homes have been flattened."

Asked what they proposed to do in Hong Kong, one young "fire-eater" said he wanted to fight the Japanese and if he could not get on other ship fairly soon, he would go to Canton and volunteer for the Army.

Japan Speeds Up Aircraft-Carrier

Tokyo, To-day.
It is learned that as a result of speed-up in the Yokosuka Naval Yard, the new Japanese aircraft-carrier, Hiryu, is nearly completed. It is expected that she will be ready for launching early in November. Our Own Correspondent.

FOUR COUPLES MARRIED AT REGISTRY

Mr. W. A. Jones, Deputy Registrar of Marriages, had a busy time this morning, when four marriages were performed at short intervals.

Mrs. Marjorie Wentworth Foster, widow, was married to Captain Edmund Gerard Noel Rushbrook, formerly of H.M.S. Cumberland. The bride was formerly of Notley Cottage, Warmwell, Dorset, England.

Mr. William Hsu, Editor of the Nam Liang News Agency, 46, D'Aguiar Street, was married to Miss Florence Lee, daughter of Mr. Lee Sing-kui, manager of the Hong Nin Savings Bank, Limited.

Miss Chan Shui-kuen, daughter of Mr. Chan Hing-cheng, was married to Mr. Lee Kwong-yuk, son of Mr. Lee Sheng-Khway, Manager of the China Trust Company, Limited.

The fourth marriage was between Miss Fung Kit-ying, of No. 20, Staunton Street, and Mr. Chan Tak-chun, attached to the staff of the Colonial Secretariat Office.

PLEADS AIR RAID TRAGEDY

Three months' hard labour was imposed on Li Ping-ling by Mr. S. F. Balfour at the Central Magistracy this morning when he pleaded guilty to snatching the handbag of Mrs. Grant of No. 7, F Block, Kennedy Road.

Det-Sergeant Cashman said defendant snatched the complainant's bag near the Cheong Club and was caught by a passer-by.

Defendant told the magistrate that he had a few days ago come to Hong Kong from Kwong Shu, where his entire family was killed during an air raid.

COMMITTEE TO DRAFT SPAIN RESOLUTION

Geneva, To-day.

A committee consisting of representatives of the Argentine, the United Kingdom, Spain, France, Norway, Mexico, the Soviet, Poland and Yugo-Slavia, has been appointed to draft a resolution in regard to Spain.

Earlier, M. Maxim Litvinoff (Russia) and Senor del Vayo (Spain) contended that had arms been supplied to the Spanish Government, the civil war would have been finished in two months. Reuter.

NON-INTERVENTION

Britain And France Still Favour Policy

Geneva, To-day.

The fact that the British and French Governments still favour a policy of non-intervention, is indicated in speeches made yesterday by Mr. Elliott and M. Yvon Delbos.

M. Delbos declared that the present equivocal situation must not be allowed to continue and declarations must be followed by effective action, guarantees and supervision.

Withdrawal of foreigners serving in Spain was absolutely essential, and in this connection the French Government would count on the unanimous support of countries represented. Reuter.

ASSEMBLY DISCUSSION

London, To-day.

Speaking in the sixth Committee of the League Assembly at Geneva yesterday, the French Foreign Minister, M. Yvon Delbos, referred to the joint effort of the French and British Governments to bring to an end abuses which endanger continuance of the agreement for non-intervention in the Spanish civil war.

He said the equivocal situation resulting from these abuses could not be allowed to continue.

Withdrawal of "foreign volunteers" from Spain was essential. Should negotiations now in train fail, the whole situation must inevitably be submitted to new examination.

HAD NOT SPREAD

Mr. Walter Elliot (Great Britain) recalled how the policy of non-intervention had arisen out of the danger to European peace which the Spanish civil war presented, and claimed that the main object for which the policy had been accepted by the British, French and

TWO ARRESTED ON IL DUCE PLOT ALARM

Rome, To-day.

It is alleged in certain quarters in Innsbruck that two passengers on the Paris-Bucharest Express were arrested on a charge of intending to prepare a plot against Signor Mussolini when he returns to Rome from his visit to Germany.

The men, who are believed to be French, at present are being kept in custody. Reuter.

other Governments, had been achieved.

The war had not spread and the great disaster of local war had not become the even greater disaster of general war, but he added a warning that if breaches of the agreement were intensified from any quarter, the policy itself might be doomed.

Speaking of the Nyon arrangement, he is reported as saying that it had undoubtedly exercised a stabilising influence in the international situation.

"It may be we are entering upon a better phase in international affairs—a phase which should have its reflection in the sphere of non-intervention."

"We believe indeed that at the present moment the Mediterranean situation is easier than it has been for some time."

"We are now using our best endeavours to ensure that the present improvement is consolidated and used as a basis for further progress."

NOT LIGHT TASK

"This task is not a light one and is at present being actively pushed forward."

"Let us not choose this moment to strike a blow at a policy which has served, and we believe will continue to serve, the cause of peace."

Later a number of speakers, led by the Mexican representative, criticised the non-intervention policy. A drafting committee was appointed and the debate adjourned. British Wireless.

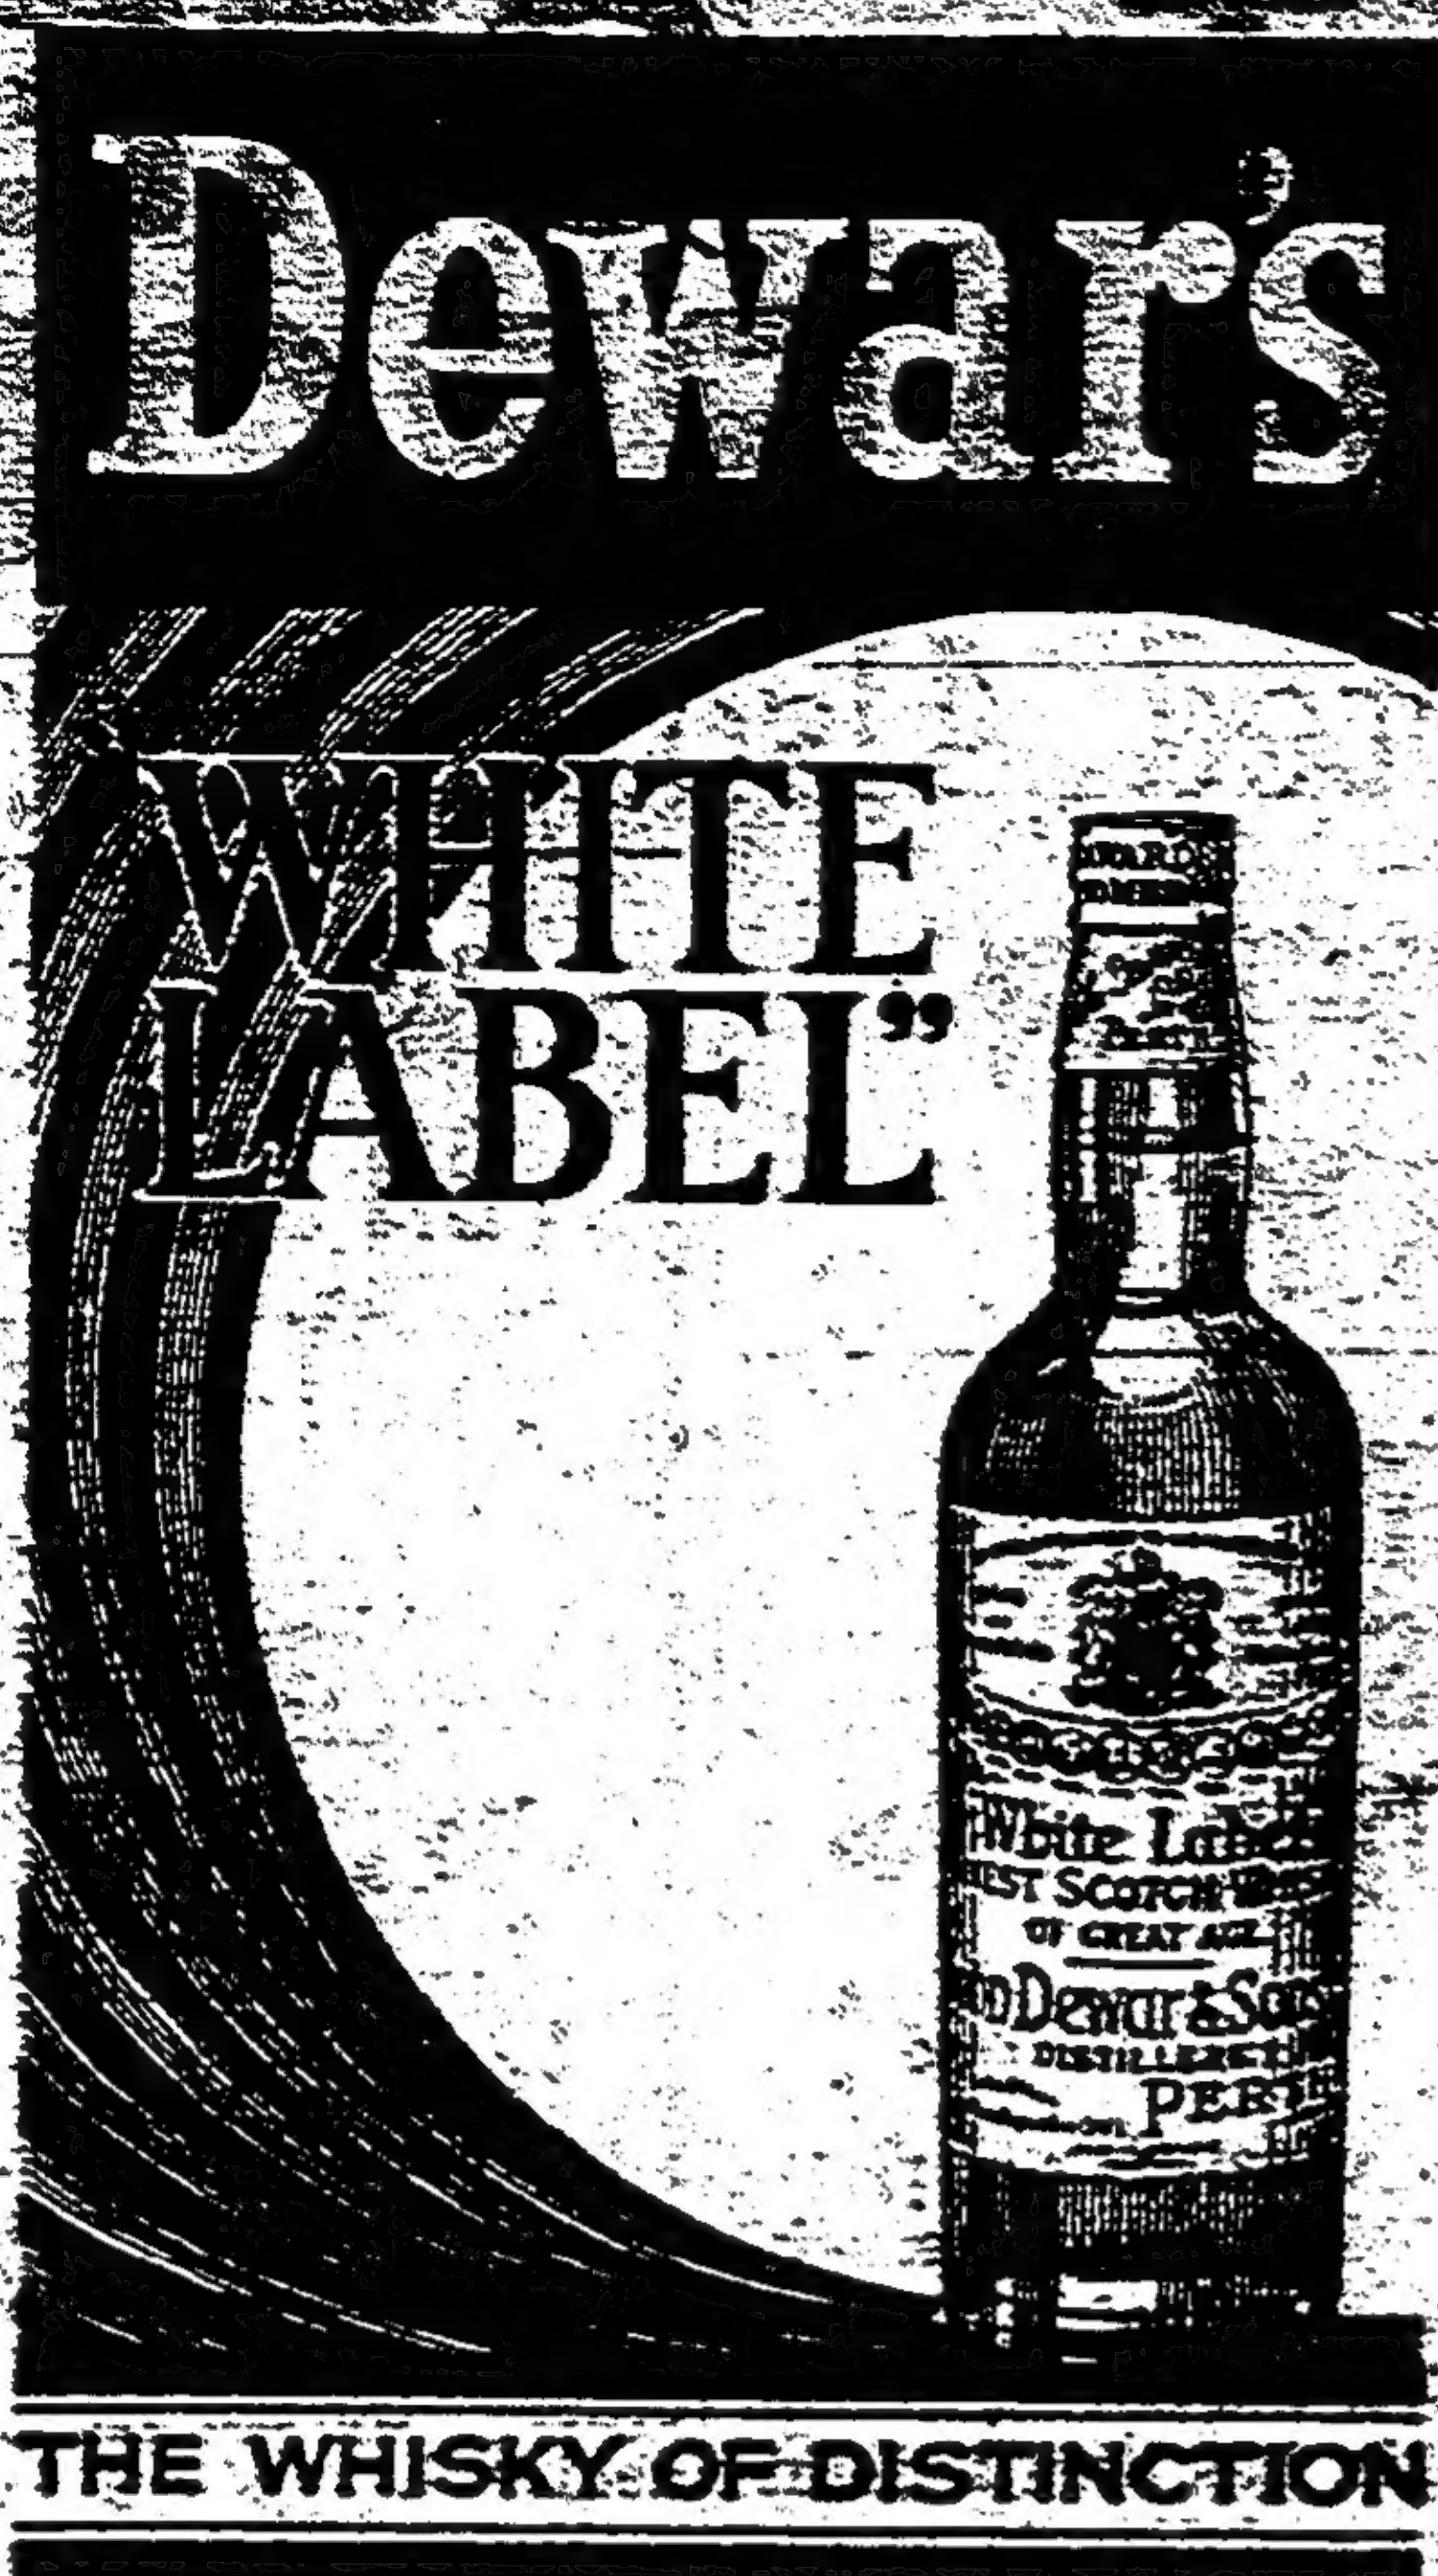

VANCOUVER TO LONDON IN TWO DAYS

Ottawa, To-day.

The President of the Canadian National Railways said yesterday that as a result of the air service across Canada, it will be possible to reach Vancouver from London in 48 hours.

He declared the Canadian Government had requested Canadian National Railways to take over control and management of the trans-Canadian air service.

The journey from Montreal to Vancouver is expected to take seventeen hours. Reuter.

SEEKING TRADE WITH BOMBS

Primitive as warfare was under Alexander or Hannibal, it was at least logical enough to enlist loot as an incentive. People used weapons to take commodities and manufacturers away from other peoples, not to insist on other people's accepting useful things. The invaders wanted to sell. Hunting customers with bombing planes was not of course, thought of as an aid to business.

This technique which presumably came in with her industrialisation, is being practised by Japan in China to-day, and it is probably true to suggest that the swiftness of Japan's transformation has made that country more susceptible to the strains of a customer hunt than other countries would be.

The strain placed on Japan's economy by Japanese aggression in China is illustrated by the fall of Japanese 6½ per cent bonds on the New York market, from a price above 100 to about 75 within a few months. But to assume that economic weakness necessarily must preclude a military success for Japan in China would be to forget Italian operations in Ethiopia. Much was said of Italy's financial difficulties, lack of raw materials and economic isolation that implied a failure in the African campaign. Economically, Ethiopia probably is still a problem to Italy, as Manchoukio is to Japan; but Italy seems pleased with its bargain.

It is, apparently, not so much whether a military success is possible as at what price it is possible that should interest the Japanese people, and indeed all other peoples. The price Japan is paying for her expansionism on the Asiatic mainland is higher than most persons realise. Although the urgency with which she is carrying on the campaign suggests that she herself is under no delusion. Otherwise, there is no explanation for the barefaced outrages against every human feeling of which she has been guilty in the past few weeks. No barbarity is, apparently, too violent, too shocking, if, in her opinion, it aids in the achievement of her aggressive aims in the time at her disposal. Yet the whole of the "inexorable logic" upon which this programme of morale-destruction is based is fallacious and perilous since the one-track mind of Japanese militarism refuses to see anything in the picture but China and Japan, and is thus arousing disgust and indignation abroad and forcing Japan, finally, to see that her economy relies not upon China nor upon Japan, but upon Japanese commercial intercourse with the rest of the world.

Ample warning has been given. Protests have poured into Tokyo from every civilised country against the indiscriminate bombings which have taken so many lives of non-combatants and destroyed so much property of no military importance whatsoever. Japan's answer has been to repeat the dose, and the growth of outraged public opinion will lead inevitably to the economic sanctions now being actively demanded by influential organisations.

In China, too, the unparalleled viciousness of the Japanese military has had precisely the opposite effect to that desired.

It is not only, as Hu Shih stated so clearly in a recent issue of Foreign Affairs, that Japan's aggressiveness has produced in China a unity which must become one of Japan's stiffest hurdles. It is not only that Japan has already parted with undisputed moral influence in the Far East for the hope of a hegemony that will be subject to long and costly dispute. Beyond this, Japan is jeopardising her economic position in the world by the very methods that her military leaders have chosen to improve it.

In this there is a point for other nations besides Japan. Industrialisation put upon the islands the task of finding new markets for their products. By combining Western mass production methods with Eastern wage standards the Japanese found the way to the world's markets. And by the method of conquest Japan has been undermining, to an extent only now becoming apparent, the great and necessary trade advantage she held against countries with higher production costs.

As Nathaniel Peffer observes in an article in Harpers Magazine, the costs of building up army and navy have until recently been met by loans. That source of financing is gradually drying up, as is indicated in the announcement of increased taxation. From now on military expenses will have to be met more and more by taxation.

In Japan's case, the addition means a lessening of Japanese ability to produce goods at prices unmatchable by other countries. It means that tariff barriers set up against Japanese goods become more effective. And all this at a time when, as Mr. Peffer further points out, Japan must feel acutely her interdependence with all other countries on world trade.

Gunning for customers is an unsound business policy for reasons other than that the gunning exterminates so many of the customers. If Japan wants China's markets, Japanese business men know how to get them. If she wants China's friendship, Japanese liberals and moderates have voiced sound opinions as to how that may be acquired. Left to the direction of these leaders, instead of to that of ambitious militarists, Japan no doubt would have found markets in China as readily as elsewhere in a world familiar with the "Made in Japan" label.

JAPANESE RAIN DEATH AND DESTRUCTION ON WUHU

Casualty Toll In Yangtse Port Tragically Heavy

TOWN WAS LISTED AS IN SAFETY ZONE FOR FOREIGNERS

Nanking, To-day.

Fifteen Japanese planes rained 100 bombs on Wuhu, a commercial port above Nanking, yesterday, starting two huge fires which consumed whole blocks of closely-packed houses.

The casualties are not known but are believed to be tragically heavy.

The bombing has caused surprise as the Japanese had listed Wuhu in the safety zone for foreign officials.

It will be recalled that the United States Ambassador, Mr. Nelson T. Johnson, originally intended to go to Wuhu.

The Chinese claim that their pursuit planes intercepted and shot down two of the Japanese fleet of raiders which visited Nanking yesterday.—Reuter.

PLANES ATTACK KONGMOON Streets Machine-Gunned Yesterday

Paklai, To-day.

Visiting the town for the first time, three Japanese planes appeared over Kongmoon yesterday and swept the city with machine-gun fire for fifteen minutes with the result that scores of innocent people were killed and wounded.—Hua Nan.

BOCCA TIGRIS RAIDS

Canton, To-day.

A number of Japanese planes carried out a systematic raid on several Chinese warships yesterday in the waters between Whampoa and Bocca Tigris Fort, but their bombs missed their marks except one which struck the gunboat "Fengwu." The vessel was damaged.—Hua Nan.

RAIDS GENERAL Aerodromes Bombed

Shanghai, To-day.

Numerous Japanese air raids in the Chinese hinterland were a feature of yesterday's developments in the Sino-Japanese conflict, and among the aerodromes bombed by the Japanese were Kwangteh, Hangchow, Changying, Kasing and Wuhung.

So far no information has been released as to the extent of the damage done.

ANGLO-FRENCH NOTE TO ITALY

London, To-day.

It is expected in London that a joint Anglo-French Note to Italy, setting forth the views of the two Governments on the main problems presented by foreign intervention in Spain, will be delivered in Rome before the end of the week.

Terms of the Note are under active consideration by the British Government and between them and the French Government.—British Wireless.

FUTURE OF THE CRYSTAL PALACE

London, To-day.

A plan for developing the Crystal Palace site as a sports and physical culture centre will be considered by the trustees at a meeting next month.

Central feature of the scheme would consist of a covered stadium seating 25,000 people and running halfway round a sports arena on which football, baseball and athletics could take place.

Round the arena would be a running and cycling track.—British Wireless.

NEW BRITISH PROTEST AGAINST RAIDS

London, To-day.

Sir Robert Craigie, the British Ambassador in Tokyo, called at the Japanese Foreign Office yesterday and left a memorandum on the subject of bombing of non-military objectives in China.

He referred to earlier representations on the subject, and in the course of conversation with the Vice-Minister, called attention to the fact that bombs had fallen on the Central Hospital in Nanking.—British Wireless.

WANDA MORGAN WINS

St. Enodoc (Cornwall), To-day.

In the third round of the British Women's Golf Championship yesterday, Miss Wanda Morgan, the holder, beat Miss Kathleen Garnham at the twenty-first hole.—Reuter.

BIG REWARD FOR NAZARETH SLAYERS

Jerusalem, To-day.

The Mandate authorities have offered a reward of £10,000 for information leading to the arrest of the murderers of Mr. Lewis Andrews, British District Commissioner at Nazareth, who was assassinated while leaving church.

This is believed to be the largest individual reward ever offered in a criminal case.—Reuter.

OPTIMISM IN PARIS NAVAL TALKS

London, To-day.

The conference of naval experts of Britain, France and Italy in Paris, continues to be regarded here with optimism.

The diplomatic correspondent of the "Daily Telegraph" writes that the opinion is generally prevalent in London that no serious difficulties need be anticipated and that the conference will have successfully accomplished its task within a few days.

Its proposals would then be submitted to the signatories of the Agreement.

The correspondent adds that the only signatory likely to raise objections is Russia, but that these objections are not taken tragically in informed British quarters.—Trans-Ocean.

ZONES DISCUSSED

Paris, To-day.

Yesterday's tri-partite naval talks were mainly of an informatory character, for the benefit of the Italian delegation.

The question of what zones should be placed under control of the Italian navy was also discussed.—Trans-Ocean.

SOUTH WALES JOINS IN URGE FOR BOYCOTT

London, To-day.

International boycott of Japanese goods is urged in resolution passed by the South Wales Miners' Federation, representing 120,000 members, at Cardiff yesterday.

The resolution expresses horror at the massacre of Chinese and urges the Trades Union Congress General Council to make every effort, through the International Federation of Trade Unions and other working class organisations, to adopt a policy of refusing to handle any goods and materials for export to, or import from, Japan, and to create a worldwide movement to boycott all Japanese goods until the Japanese have left Chinese territory.—Reuter.

AMERICA READY TO HELP STOP JAPAN

Washington, To-day.

Asked yesterday to comment on the League's condemnation of the Japanese bombing of Chinese civilians, the Secretary of State, Mr. Cordell Hull, said that the United States Government, as repeatedly pointed out to Japan, opines that any general bombing of an extensive area in which resides a large populace engaged in peaceful pursuits, is unwarranted and contrary to the principles of law and humanity.

No reply to the United States Note had been received from Tokyo, stated Mr. Hull, denying American press reports that Japan had assured the United States that she had no territorial ambitions in China.

Mr. Hull added that if and when concrete proposals were made by the League, the State Department would give them careful consideration.

Commenting on the statement, the "New York Post" states: "Apparently Mr. Hull stands ready to join economic sanctions against Japan if the League Powers undertake to impose them."

"The State Department has gone the full way in expressing sympathy for the Chinese."

READY FOR ACTION

"Officials of the Department make no secret of the fact that they want to impede the Japanese invasion in a more effective way."

"They are convinced that public opinion in the United States will now support that course, in spite of the demands of peace societies for strict neutrality."—Reuter.

Vienna, To-day.

Informed quarters now confirm that a meeting took place on Monday between the Austrian Chancellor, Dr. Kurt Schuschnigg, and the Czechoslovakian Premier, Dr. Milan Hodza.

Dr. Hodza has since returned to Prague.—Trans-Ocean.

FRENCH CABINET MEETING

Paris, To-day.

The Cabinet Council, with President Albert Lebrun in the chair, which will be held at the President's summer residence at Rambouillet to-day, will, says "Le Paris Midi," discuss the Budget and foreign affairs.

The paper states that among the subjects to be discussed will also be developments since signing of the Nyon Agreement, the Mediterranean question and Signor Mussolini's meeting with Herr Hitler.

The Budget, however, will probably be the main subject discussed.—Trans-Ocean.

AIRMEN DECORATED

Moscow, To-day.

The Soviet airmen, Cherkov, Baboukov and Belikov, who made the first trans-Polar flight from Moscow to Vancouver, Washington, on June 17 this year, were yesterday decorated for their fine performance with the Order of the Red Banner at a special meeting of the Central Executive Committee.

Each aviator also received a cash reward.

Cherkov, who had commanded the plane, said he and his comrades would not content themselves with what had already been achieved but would try to win fresh laurels for Soviet aviation in the near future.—Trans-Ocean.

WOMAN PICKPOCKET

A female pickpocket, Koo Kam-ping, was sentenced to three months' imprisonment by Mr. S. F. Balfour at the Central Magistracy when she pleaded guilty to the theft of $23 from Chan Chi, who was buying a ticket at the Central Theatre last night.

Det. Sergeant Cashman said defendant was seen by a district watchman picking the pocket of complainant. Defendant was born in Hong Kong and had several previous convictions.

Holiday Of Leader

Salamanca, To-day.

October 1 is to be celebrated in Nationalist Spain as "The Holiday of the Leader," the day being the occasion when General Franco was named leader of the Nationalist revolt.—Trans-Ocean.

DAIRY FARM & RECONSTITUTED MILK

NEW MODERN PREMISES

A decision by the Dairy Farm Company to enter into the reconstituted milk field follows the transfer of the East Point branch to new and modern premises in Yee Woo Street, where work on the new dairy installation has been commenced.

The new installation will cover an area of 6,192 sq. ft. and will extend to a depth of 72 feet from Pennington Street. The entire Pennington Street front will form the facade.

It is hoped to complete the building alterations and install the necessary machinery before the end of the year. The building will be of modern design, with glass bricks in the external walls, a new feature in Hong Kong. These will be used where adaptable. The heating, cooling and filling and in fact all units making contact with milk or ice cream, will be of stainless steel. The cooling equipment will be of the enclosed type, so that apart from the split second between the filling and capping equipment there will be no exposure from the time the milk enters the plant until it is bottled. The hooding and sealing system recently adopted will be linked up to the filling machines. Conveyors will be used where at all possible, thus reducing the personnel inside the dairy to a minimum.

A further Dumore Junior bottle washing machine has been ordered and will be installed with its duplicate in the scullery premises. This type of machine, known as a T-operation type, is considered the best of its kind for the washing of milk bottles. Each bottle will be in the machine eleven minutes.

ICE CREAM

In order to cope with the increasing demand for ice cream, new freezers and holding vats have been ordered, and these will be installed in the first floor adjoining the hardening rooms. As at present, the milk will be cooled at the farm and thereafter transported to the dairy in a stainless steel tank.

The transfer of the dairy to more central and commodious premises, particularly since the premises in question are adjacent to the Company's cold storage installation, will provide opportunities for the development and extension of business which are non-existent at Pokfulam.

The Company has decided to put up reconstituted or "made-up" milk and cream. This is done in Singapore and Manila. The fresh milk supply in both these cities is very restricted of course, and this has probably a great deal to do with the popularity made-up milk enjoys. However, there has been a steady rise here in tinned milk importations in recent years, and as it is felt that many who use the tinned article do so for economic reasons, the Dairy Farm Co., are optimistic enough to think there will be more than a passing demand for these commodities. Full use of existing facilities and services will be made, thus keeping overhead charges to a minimum, and while the Company cannot yet say what the prices will be, they will be as favourable as possible. Distinctive bottles and hoods will be used.

UNCERTAINTY APPARENT IN RUBBER TRADE

Paris, To-day. The International Rubber Regulation Committee met yesterday.

No. communique was issued but a member of the committee told Renter "No modifications of existing regulations were decided at to-day's meeting."

There was merely an interchange of views on the present situation, he said.

It was decided that it was to early to fix regulations for the first quarter of 1938, which will be done at a subsequent meeting either in October or November.—Renter.

100 YDS. TITLE RACE DISAPPOINTS NO MORE CHALLENGE FOR AMERICA CUP EVENT WORLD COULD DO WITHOUT

Newport (Rhode Island), September 6.
THOMAS OCTAVE MURDOCH SOPWITH, with his defeated Endeavour II and his crews and staff of 130, will remain in America until the end of the yachting season, which is about seven weeks ahead, so writes Trevor Wignal in the "Daily Express."

HIS INTIMATE FRIENDS ARE CONVINCED, HOWEVER, THAT HE WILL NEVER AGAIN CHALLENGE FOR THE AMERICA'S CUP.

Sopwith has no complaints to make about the recent series of races which for once in a while did not cause a single protest.

He admits frankly that he was beaten squarely and completely, but he resents bitterly criticisms that have been levelled at him.

He is still indignant over tales and rumours that for ten days turned this exclusive resort into a murmuring collection of scandal-mongers.

If it is correct that Sopwith has made up his mind to finish with attempts to lift the America's Cup, the news should be regarded as welcome, for the events is one the world could well do without.

PROFITEERING

Its main achievements this week were total eclipse of the British challenger, an ostentatious and dangerously offensive display of which great wealth can command and an unexampled exhibition of price raising by local hotel and shopkeepers.

Yet the loudest of to-day's lamentations, are from tradesmen who prayed for storms or for at least one Sopwith victory. They desired above all things some happening that would send the races over the week-end, and Vanderbilt's clean sweep means that he is no hero to those who sank large sums of money in laying in stores of liquor.

CARNIVAL OF WASTE

This morning the cheeriest noises were made by those rapidly getting out of the town. Some, like myself, had to borrow to pay their bills.

But little sympathy is given to those who are left saddled with bottles and canned goods they may never sell.

Yachting interests here naturally defend the Cup races, although they profess to scorn the notoriety they arouse.

Popular opinion regards the affair as a gigantic carnival of waste.

The most remarkable spectacle on the concluding day was the falling into lines as Ranger was winning her fourth successive race of one American gunboat, with her eight attendant destroyers.

These, combined with other war vessels and a large number of coast-guard patrol boats that were employed solely to police and clear the course made the scene look more like the big day of some extensive naval manoeuvres, than the sailing home of two fancy sloops that cost vast fortunes to build.

EXPENSIVE TOYS

There is sure to be a lot of questioning in official circles in the coming days about the presence of so many naval ships and about taking them away from their normal duties of coastguard boats to keep the seas clear for a couple of millionaires.

Even Ranger and Endeavour are coming in for sharp criticism now. They are described as a pair of expensive toys that would be helpless outside protected waters and that could not save the life of one drowning sailor in half a gale.

The chief argument of the moment is that if Sopwith and Vanderbilt can spend millions of dollars on building their yachts they should spend a few more to do their own policing of the seas.

It is certain that this feeling will find expression in Washington and the Senate shortly.

UNLESS AMERICA AGREES

The small British colony here are upset and humiliated. One noted British yachting authority told me this morning that unless America agrees to changes in the rules affecting future contests, which he states is extremely unlikely, it will be at least fifty years before there is another challenge.

Miss Veronica Thirlwell, above, the Colony's lady swimming champion, is expected to retain her title this evening in the V.R.C. pool.

200 YDS. OPEN RELAY TO BE HELD TO-DAY

Colony Swimming Championships

The Colony Swimming Championships will continue this evening, the only events of interest being the Ladies' 100 Yards free-style Championship in which Miss V. Thirlwell should secure a comfortable win, while the 200 Yards Open Relay should produce a keen duel between the University and the V. R. C.

The following is to-day's programme:

100 Yards breast-stroke—Junior Championship of V.R.C.

880 Yards free-style—Championship of Colony.

50 Yards free-style Handicap—Boys, 14 years and under (Heats).

100 Yards free-style—Ladies Championship.

220 Yards free-style—Junior Championship of V.R.C.

Team Race (Four men; 50 Yards each)—Open to Colony.

aminations have prevented him from indulging in any serious training.

THIS IS SPEED!

Lan Po-hei swimming unpaced for almost two-thirds of the distance, was seen in a vain attempt to break his own mark of 69 seconds for the 100 Yards back-stroke. He covered the first 25 yards in 13 secs., reached the 50 yards mark in 32 3-5 secs. He reached the 75 yards mark in 50 1-5 secs., but failed in the last five or six yards to maintain his speed otherwise a new Colony mark would have been the result.

L. M. REMEDIOS WINS

The V. R. C. quarter-mile free-style Junior Championship saw only three swimmers start, L. M. Remedios, the ultimate winner, J. Souza, who came second, and R. G. L. Oliphant, who dropped out of the race after completing the 12th length (300 yards).

Remedios was never seriously challenged, his times over the double-laps of 50 yards each being:

- 50 Yds.—38 3-5 secs.
- 100 Yds.—82 secs.
- 150 Yds.—2 mins. 2 2-5 secs.
- 200 Yds.—2 mins. 53 2-5 secs.
- 250 Yds.—3 mins. 27 4-5 secs.
- 300 Yds.—4 mins. 21 1-5 secs.
- 350 Yds.—5 mins. 9 1-5 secs.
- 400 Yds.—5 mins. 53 2-5 secs.

NORMAN LEE DEFEATS L. OLIVEIRA

LAU PO HEI MAKES

IN BACKSTROKE

V.R.C. JUNIORS ARE PROMISING

(By "CRAWL")

Very disappointing swimming featured the opening of the Colony swimming championships in the Victoria Recreation Club swimming pool yesterday evening when Norman Lee of the South China Athletic Association secured the 100 Yards free-style title for the first time in his career, beating Luis Oliveira, of the University, by just under a second in the comparatively poor time of 58 4-5 secs.

Lau Po-hei provided the only bright spark in the championship events when he retained his 100 yards back-stroke title in 69 1-5 secs., swimming for over half the distance without any serious challenge, although A. K. Rumjahn pushed him over the first 40 yards when he petered out against the superior stroke of the holder.

Some very bright and hopeful swimming was witnessed in the Victoria Recreation Club junior events, A. Guterres providing a thrilling climax to the first heat of the 220 Yards Junior Handicap when he spurted over the last 20 yards to beat V. Barnes by 2-5ths of a second (on handicap).

TAYLOR ILL

The main event of the evening was the 100 Yards free-style Championship of the Colony in which only four swimmers faced the starter, Taylor, the Police champion, being under doctor's orders.

Norman Lee and Oliveira both hit the water together on the start, while Ozorio and Stemp, of the Middlesex Regiment, were only a fraction behind.

Both Lee and Ozorio reached the first turn (25 yards) in about 12 secs. and raced away over the second lap neck-and-neck, Oliveira reaching the second turn (50 Yards) in 26 2-5 secs. The third lap proved disastrous to the Varsity swimmer as he twice fouled the ropes giving Norman Lee a fraction's advantage at the last turn (75 Yards) which was reached in 40 4-5 secs.

THOSE ROPES

The last length was very exciting, but disappointing in that Norman Lee twice fouled the lines when about eight yards from the finish, missing one stroke, but Oliveira was also in difficulties and was unable to make up the deficit of a few feet.

Oliveira's fine turn of speed over the first 50 yards gave the impression that he was capable of better things over the 100 Yards and I shall be very much surprised if he does not secure the title before very long. I am not making any excuses for his bad swimming when I state that the coming Varsity ex-

LADIES' HOCKEY OUTLOOK BRIGHT

Miss Iris Woolley, the clever C.B.A. half-back, is again available for the coming season.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

(By "STICKS")

Much regret will be felt in Ladies' hockey circles at the news that owing to a big loss in playing personnel, the Hong Kong Ladies' Hockey Club will only be able to field one team during the coming season. This was made known at yesterday's meeting of the Club when Lady MacGregor, wife of the Chief Justice, was re-elected President, and Mrs. T. E. Pearce as Chairman.

After the Hon. Secretary's and Hon. Treasurer's reports had been read and adopted, officers for the ensuing year were elected. Mrs. Lunson was elected Captain of the first eleven and Hon. Secretary, while Miss W. Marsh was elected Vice-Captain. Miss Grace Swan and Miss Mary Smalley were elected Assistant Hon. Secretary and Hon. Treasurer, respectively.

The Committee will comprise Miss Sheila Baskett, Miss Betty Helbling, and Mrs. Nora Bennitt. The Selection Committee will be the Captain, Vice-Captain, Miss Jean Dalziel, Miss Mary Smalley and Miss Vivian Blackburn.

TWO GROUNDS

Hockey practice matches will be held every Tuesday on the Sookun-poo military ground, by kind permission of the Army Area Sports Board, while matches will probably be held on the Navy ground at Happy Valley every Saturday.

Miss Joan Smalley, former captain of the Club and a very sound back, has intimated that she will not be available during the coming season as a player, as she is still suffering from fluid on the knee. She will coach the team, however, for the next three or four weeks or until such time as a male coach is appointed.

"Y" LADIES WILL FIELD VERY STRONG CAER CLARK TEAM

MISS MURIEL MCCAOW AS NEW CENTRE-HALF

MRS. G. A. WHITE TO PLAY FOR C.B.A. LADIES

(By "STICKS")

THE Ladies' hockey season is just about starting and the Central British Association Ladies have set the ball rolling by holding two practice matches, although their annual hockey meeting does not take place until next week. The Y.M.C.A. Ladies have held their meeting, but have had no practice although they hold their first knock-up to-morrow on the "Y" ground at King's Park.

IN SPITE OF THE FACT THAT BOTH HAVE SUSTAINED SEVERAL LOSSES IN COMPLEMENT DURING THE OFF-SEASON, NEITHER CAN BE SAID TO HAVE DETERIORATED IN- SO FAR AS STRENGTH IS CONCERNED AND A BRIGHT OUT-LOOK APPEARS ASSURED FOR BOTH.

Taking the "Y" Ladies, the present holders of the Caer Clark Cup, first, they should be able to field a very strong team throughout the season and from the talent at present available, I can almost pick the team which will do service for them, although the actual weeding out of players destined for the first and second teams will not take place for some time.

Mrs. Stephens and Mrs. Sullivan, the former George twins, will not be playing this coming season, thus providing a vacancy in the senior team's goal, while Mrs. Maudie Read, their centre-forward, and Mrs. George Milne (formerly Miss Edie Thomson) are both away at Home, leaving other vacancies at centre-forward and centre-half, respectively, which can be readily filled by newcomers, and from last season's Brawn Cup team.

USEFUL RECRUIT

Mrs. Starbuck, who was one of the "Y" Ladies' outstanding half-backs early last season until she was placed under doctor's orders, will not be playing as I understand that she is still under medical orders.

Among the newcomers are Miss Muriel McCaw, probably the finest junior pivot in the Colony at the moment and former centre-half of the Central British Schoolgirls "A" team, winners of the Brawn Cup League. It goes without saying that she will fill the pivotal vacancy.

Other newcomers are Mrs. Blumenthal (formerly Miss Trixie Dennis), a fairly sound inside-right, Miss Eileen Mitchell, a promising junior player from the Central British Association juniors, and Miss I. Buchanan, also of the Central British Association.

As far as I can see, the probable senior line up will be Miss J. Weller, in goal, with Mrs. Burke and Miss A. Fowler (Captain) as the right and left-backs, respectively. The intermediate line will probably comprise Miss K. Tonge, who played last season and who will probably proceed Home in February next year, Miss Muriel McCaw and Miss Joan Lakeman, the latter also one of the last season's outstanding half-backs.

THE ATTACK

The forward line will probably be

Mrs. Burnett, Mrs. Gardiner, Miss Violet Bradbury, the newly elected Vice-Captain and former Brawn Cup captain, Miss Marie Smith, another of last season's outstanding forwards, and Miss Marjorie Westcott.

It will be seen from the above that the "Y" Ladies are in little danger of losing the title of champions, which they so deservedly won last season. In analysing the team it is fairly obvious that the only apparent weaknesses, if any, are in the defence, as I very much doubt whether any other Ladies' Club in the Colony is capable of fielding so strong an attack combining as it does, speed with clever inside forwards.

It is difficult to forecast the probable composition of the "Y" Ladies Brawn Cup team although the following ladies will probably be available during the coming season: Mrs. Slater (full-back), Mrs. Brown (half-back), Mrs. McLean (half-back), Miss E. Holloway (half-back), Miss E. Mitchell (half-back), Miss R. Ingram (half-back), Mrs. George (formerly Miss Julie Syrik), Mrs. R. B. Barnes (half-back) who is shortly proceeding Home, Mrs. Blumenthal (inside-right), Miss L. Murray (right-wing) and Miss Sinclair (forward).

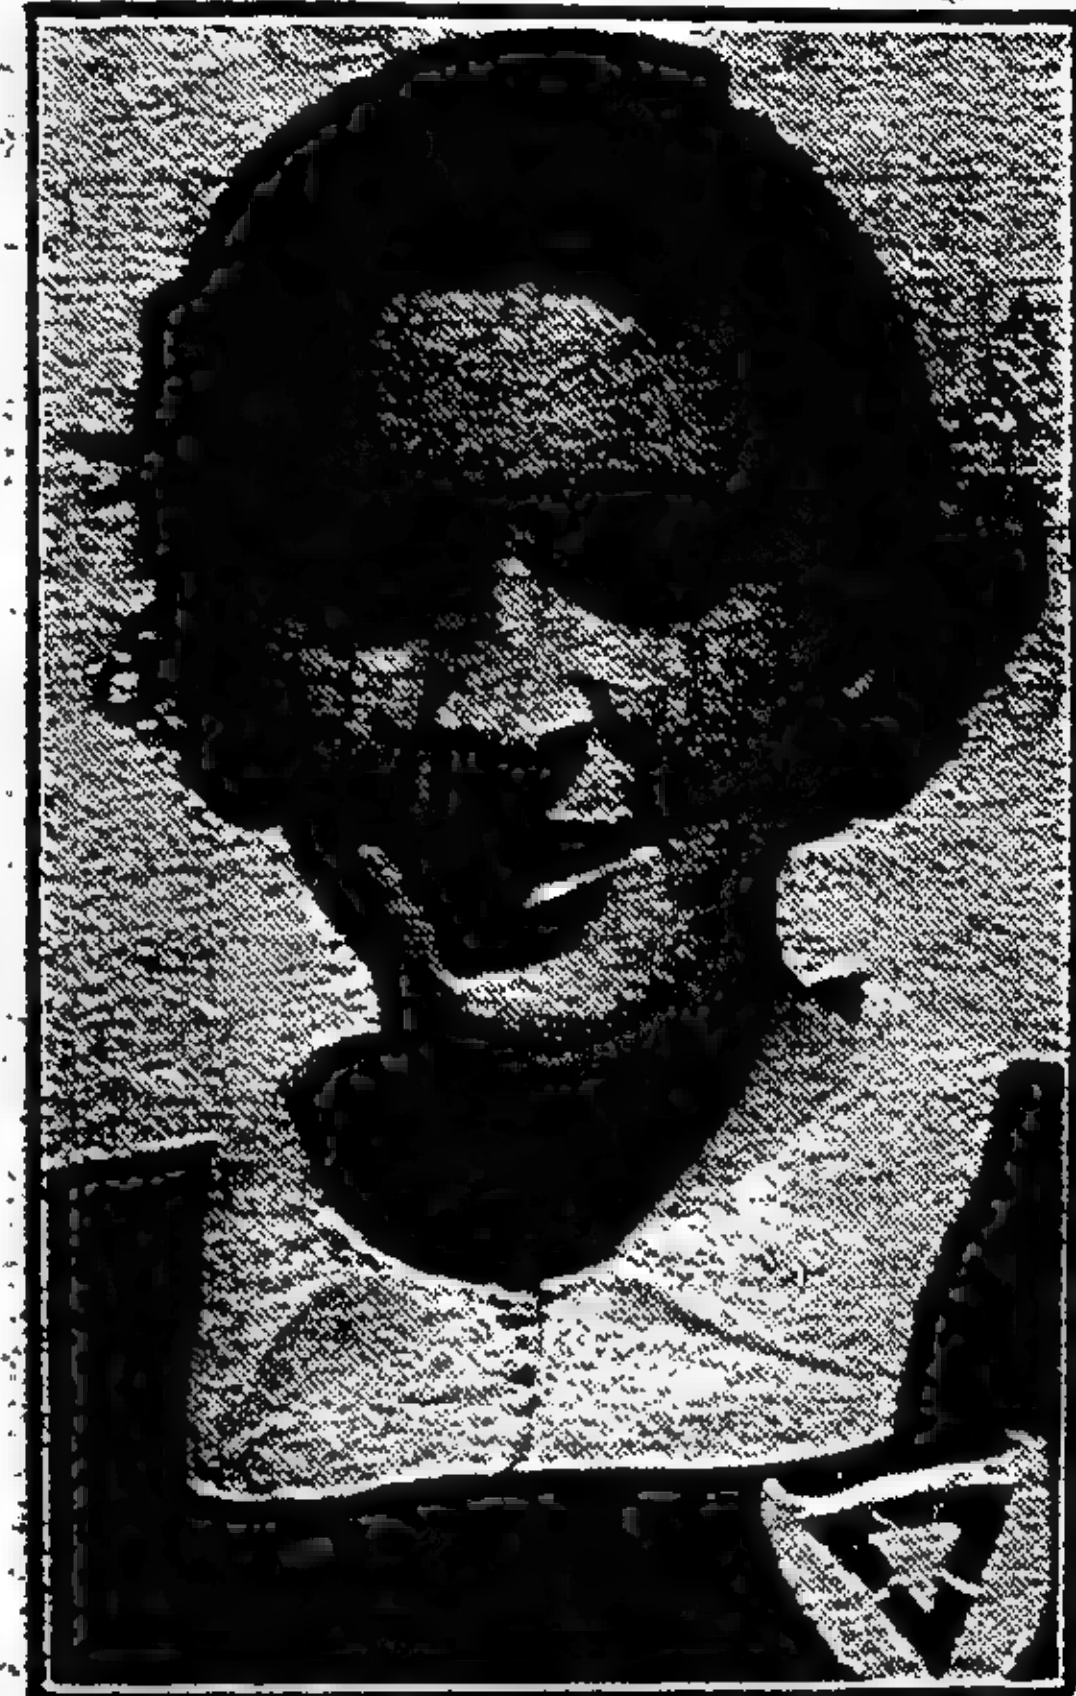

THE C.B.A.

The Central British Association Ladies, despite several departures from the Colony, should be able to field a fairly strong team.

Mrs. G. A. White, who will be better remembered as Miss Margaret Woolley, one of the Colony's finest centre-forwards, is staging a comeback after a season's absence and should strengthen their attack.

Among the players who have since departed from the Colony are Miss Olive Peters, a good right-half or inside-right, Miss Peggy Stringer, their left-winger (junior), and Mrs. Burton, last season's centre-forward, and one of the C.B.A.'s best forwards for many a long day.

Among the newcomers are Miss E. Ishovetky, of the Central British Association, and Miss should strengthen their intermediate line at left-half, Mrs. Daniels, who is reputed to be a very good winger and Miss Grimmit, who is a comparative newcomer to the game.

Miss Anne Fowler, has again been elected skipper of the "Y" Ladies' Hockey team.

OLD HANDS AVAILABLE

The majority of last season's Ladies are available, among these being Miss F. Best (goalkeeper), Miss B. Parsons and Miss J. Walker (right and left-backs, respectively), Miss D. Moss, Miss I. FOOTBALL PAY DEMAND LOOKS NEXT WORLD CHAMPION

PLAYERS' CASE FOR HIGHER WAGE

HARDSHIP IN THE "POORER CLUBS"

Manchester, August 24.

On the eve of the new Association football season, which opens on Saturday, the Association Football Players' and Trainers' Union, meeting here to-day, has decided to ask for better wage conditions.

Mr. James Fay, the secretary, stated after the meeting that he had been instructed to write to the Football League asking for concessions. "We are prepared to make a definite stand," said Mr. Fay, "and all over the country indignation is growing at the sliding scale which clubs have lately introduced."

"Not 10 per cent. of the League clubs pay a flat rate of wages. Players are given a certain wage, but it is dependent on their being in the first team."

"As soon as they drop out of the first team their wages go down, probably by £1 a week. This is considered unfair."

NO COMPENSATION

"At to-day's meeting our members pointed out that the speeding-up of the game had shortened the careers of players, but they had been given practically nothing to compensate them for their shortened period of usefulness."

"I am instructed to ask for a general increase in the rates of pay, with an extension of the maximum of £8 a week in winter and £6 in summer."

"Another thing we want altering is the divergence between the Football Association and the League rules concerning the minimum wage at which players may be retained."

"The F. A. gives the minimum as £208 a year, but the League merely refers to a 'reasonable wage.' We want both bodies to put the minimum at £260."

£500 A YEAR PLAYERS

"One League club last year offered 13 players a wage of £2 a week in summer and £5 a week in winter, with an extra 30s a week when in the first team. That is the sort of sliding scale we are fighting against."

The pay of players in the Football League varies from about £500 to £220 a year, according to the man's ability and club. The Players' Union's request for a revision of the present retaining wage of £208 a year will meet with a mixed reception. Some of the bigger clubs may support it and a number of the smaller ones will cry poverty.

THE BOTTOM END

A League player said last night: "The League has increased the earnings of the higher-paid players this season by reintroducing talent money, and they can now earn up to £500 a year from football alone, plus a benefit after five years of anything up to £650."

"But in helping these members of teams which finish in the leading positions in the League and Cup competitions, the League has done nothing for the players at the other end of the table."

"I hope the football authorities will hold a sympathetic investigation into the question of the £208 retaining wage, as, in the Third Division, among the poorer clubs, there are certainly hardships."

EARLY FIGHT WITH BENNY LYNCH

Liverpool, August 27.

PETER KANE, of Golborne, the North's brilliant young fly-weight champion, overwhelmed Jimmy Warnock, the Irish champion, at the Anfield football ground, Liverpool, to-night, the referee stopping the fight during the fourth round.

Kane, a blacksmith's striker, still continuing his work earned, by this latest triumph, the clear and official right to fight Benny Lynch for the fly-weight championships of Great Britain and the world.

Warnock had already met right to the jaw.

Lynch twice, and on each occasion beat him on points, and although these were non-title fights, the ease with which Kane smashed his way to victory over so experienced, wily and rugged a fighter as Warnock to-night was incredible. It was a display which caused enthusiasm not far short of hysteria among the vast crowd of 35,000.

WHIRLWIND ONSLAUGHT

Kane's domination was asserted and assured from the first ten seconds of the fight, when he rushed Warnock to the ropes and began a whirlwind onslaught which was to be continued, except for the intervals, until the referee, surveying the utterly exhausted and semi-conscious Warnock as he lay in a heap, sent Kane to his corner and declared the fight over.

That reverse stance, with which Warnock fights, right hand foremost, so far from puzzling Kane, seemed to open up a target. Kane, with his incessant two-handed hooking and swinging, practically decided the fight towards the end of the first round when, having wasted much fury, he shot a powerful right hook to the stomach, followed by another similar blow. From the second of these, Warnock collapsed.

The Irishman rose at the count of eight, just before the bell. He was clearly hurt, and spent practically the whole of the second round trying to conceive some sort of defence against the youngster, who circled on his toes and swooped in with a shower of punches from all angles.

IRISHMAN TAKES CHANCE

In the third round Warnock evidently decided to take a chance. He realised that his only hope of making a fight of it was now to attack and land a damaging blow himself. Hardly had he opened out, however, than he ran headlong into a clean

The force of it jarred his senses, and a little later he sank down from a slight blow and rested for eight seconds.

Warnock now was fighting for time. Later in this round, under another barrage, he went down for nine seconds, and when he arose he was practically helpless, kept going only by his pluck and instinct.

A right to the jaw put him down for a further count, and in the fourth round, after one more futile effort to attack, Warnock received a punch in the stomach which put him down for nine seconds. This was virtually the end. He managed to rise, but was down again at once, and Mr. Ben Hardwick of Wales, the referee, rightly stopped the fight.

MAGNIFICENT PUNCHING

Warnock had no excuses. His eye-brow injury, sustained in training recently, did not affect the fight in any way, and he was the first to admit afterwards that Kane's magnificent punching had been too much for him. "I think he can beat Lynch," he added, "and I wish him all the luck in the world."

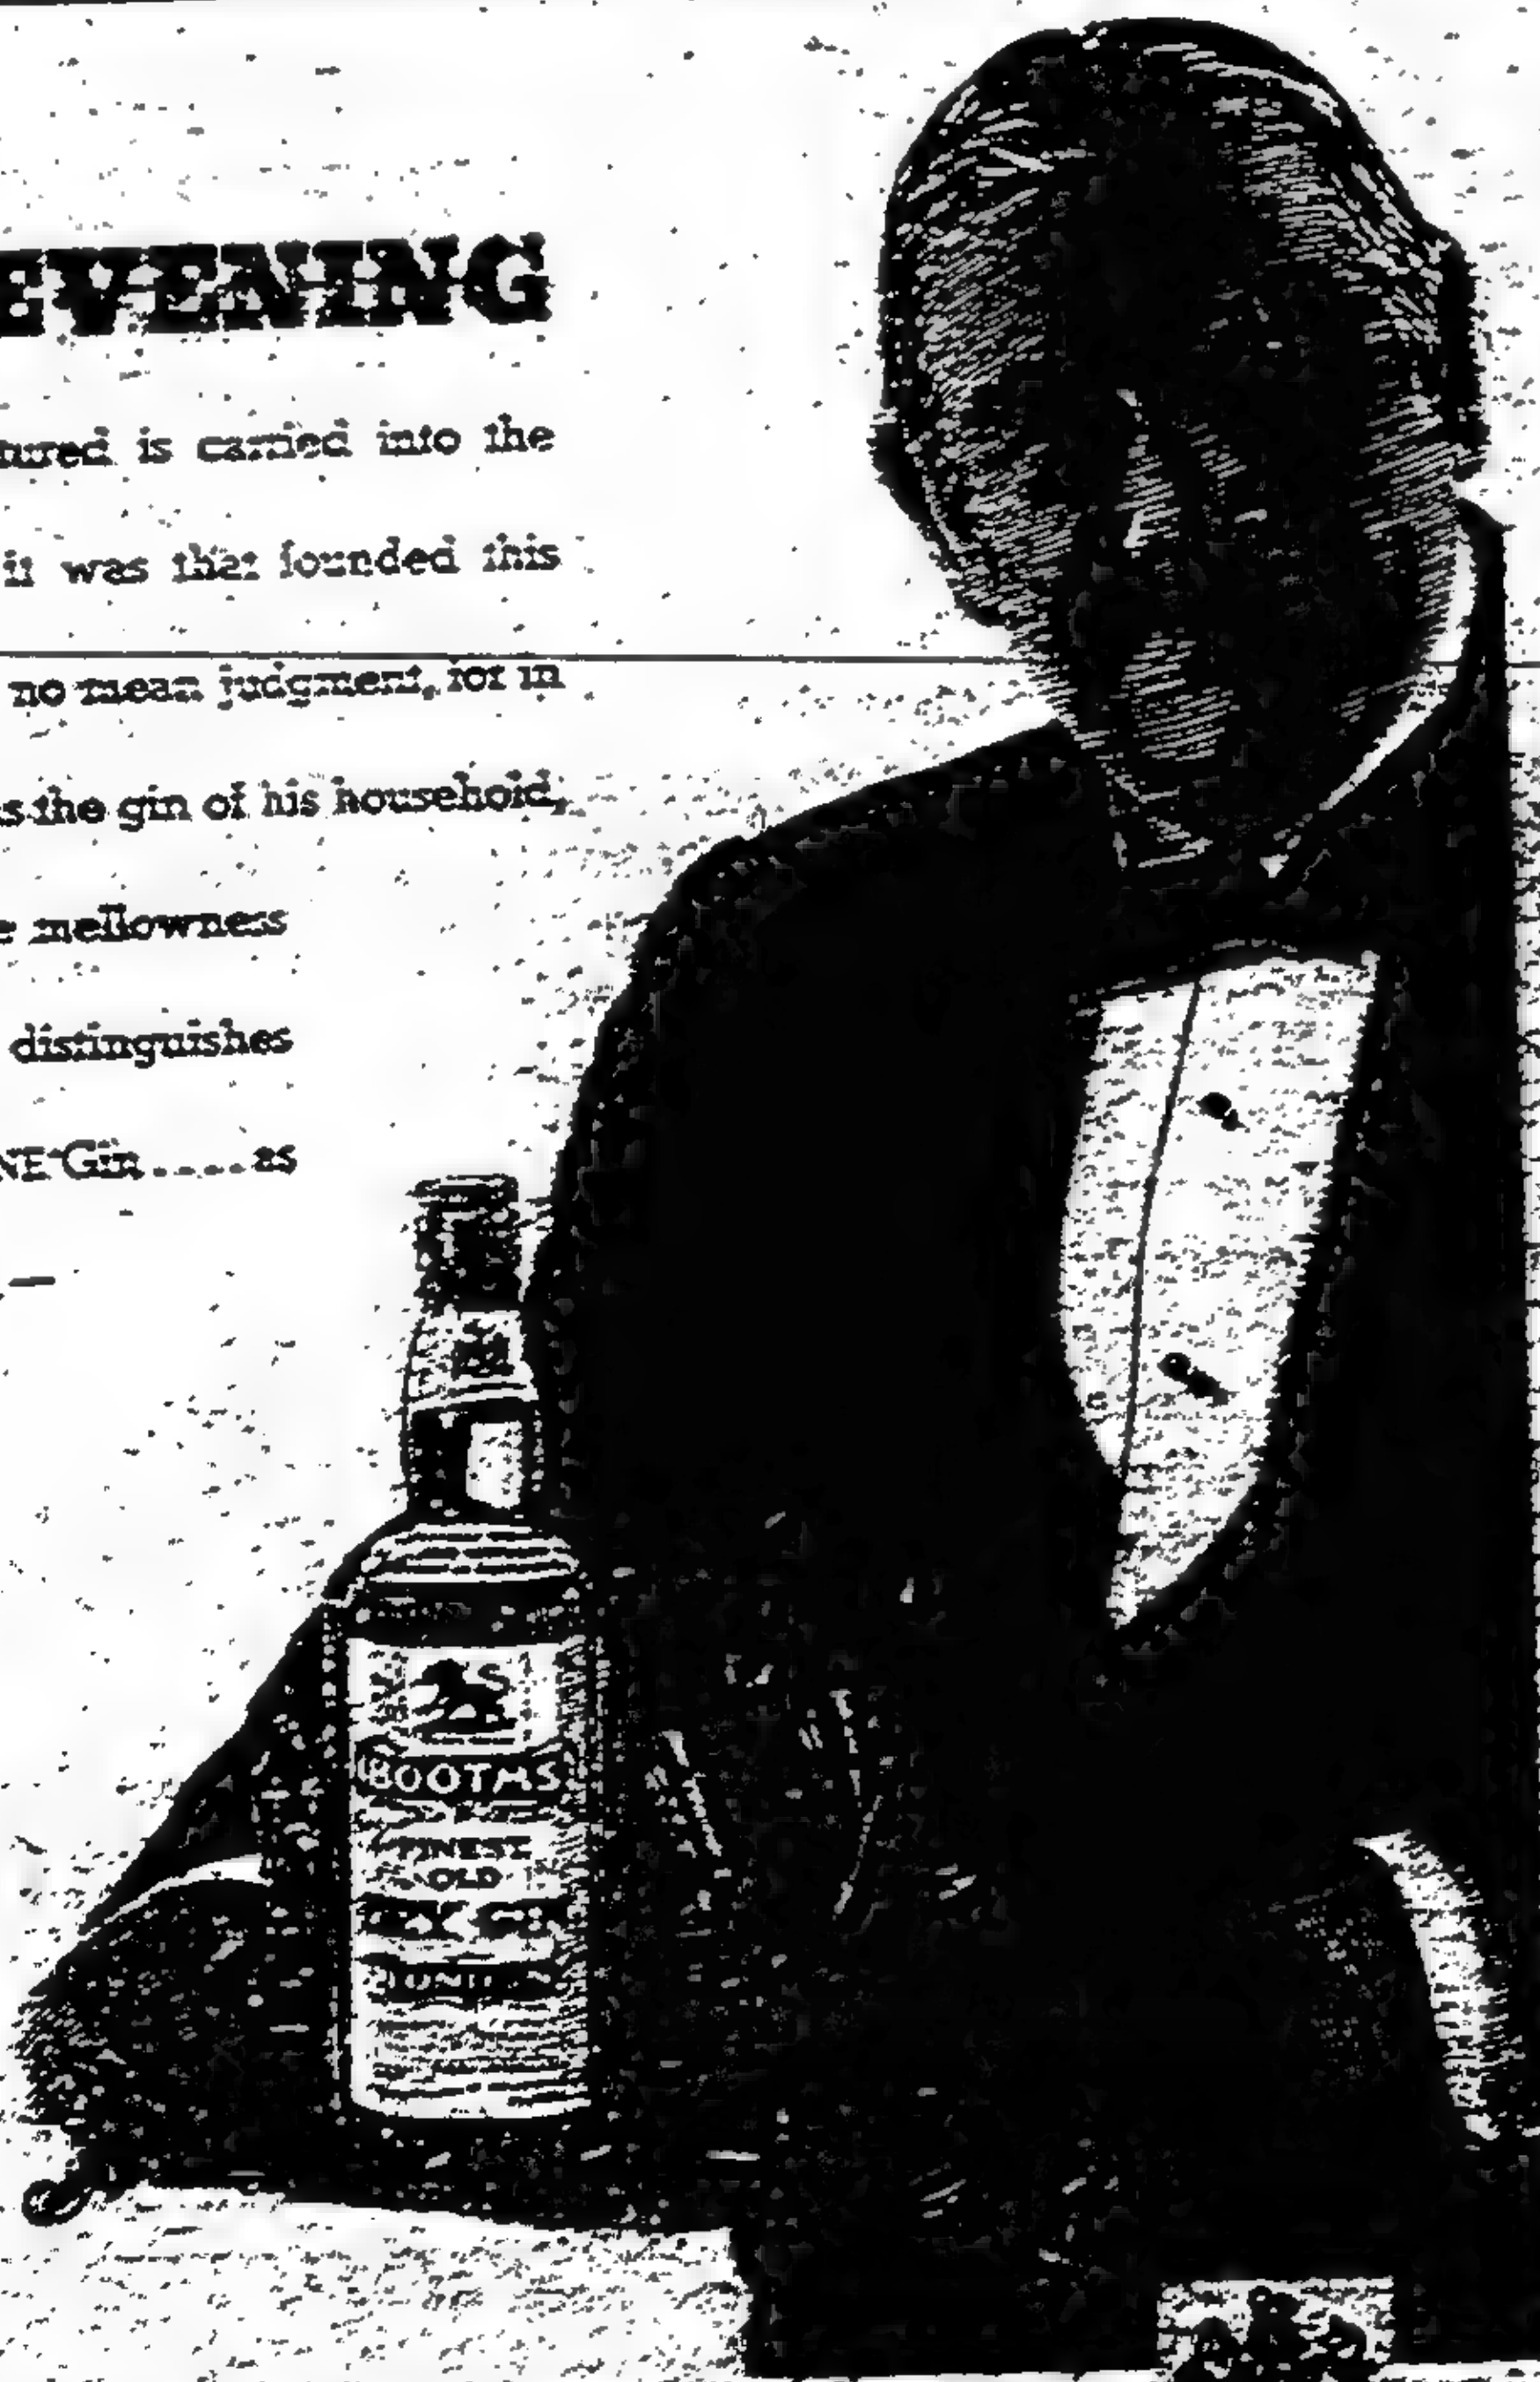

Kane's rest from boxing had done him good. The signs of staleness which were apparent last spring were completely absent. He was faster, stronger, harder in the punch than ever, and looked strong at the weight. He weighed in, by the way, at the exact limit of 8st. Warnock being two ounces lighter.

Kane is growing and he will no doubt welcome a chance to meet Lynch as early as possible. On last night's form he seems destined to the next world's fly-weight champion.

The attendance was 35,361 and the receipts were £7,300, both being a record for the North of England. Kane and Warnock each received £1,000.

NORTH CHINA FIGHTING

CHINESE CONTEST EVERY YARD OF GROUND

Peiping, To-day.

Heavy fighting still continues on the Hopei front, where the Japanese are slowly advancing along the sector between the Peiping-Hankow Railway and the Tientsin-Pukow Railway lines, with the Chinese fiercely contesting every yard of ground.

The Japanese forces are divided into five groups, of which two are operating along the railway lines, while three others are advancing southward on the roads.

After heavy bombardment of the Chinese lines from land and air, the Japanese troops yesterday claim to have captured Fengchiakow, on the railway line to Pukow.

On the Hankow line the Japanese have reached the town of Hainlo, south of Paotingfu.

In addition to a large number of planes, the Japanese are employing numerous tanks in the fighting in this sector.

As a result of their latest successes the Japanese are nearing the border of Shantung Province.

Neutral observers in Peiping consider it not improbable that the Governor of Shantung, General Han Fu-chu, will try to conclude a separate peace with the Japanese "in order to spare the population of the province the horrors of war."

It is pointed out here in this connection that the Chinese troops stationed in Shantung have not yet taken part in the fighting against the Japanese.

SHANTUNG'S POSITION

The fact that the Japanese would be in a position to attack Shantung from the sea as well as from the north, it is declared, would place the province in an extremely precarious position in the event of hostilities with the Japanese.
